Miss Green-----

Dear Mrs. Green,

I wish I didn't have to say goodbye. I've loved being with you so much. You are my very favorite group, and if I decide to become a teacher, I hope I can be a little like you. You can't possibly realize how much your friendship has meant to me. Please write to me next year 'cause I'll miss you. I know your annual next year will be nice, but you won't ever have a prettier color.

Love,

Chicken

THE TOWER

Its quarter hour
message inspires students and townspeople—

"Dear Lord, our God
Be Thou our Guide
Till life shall cease
No foot shall slide.
-Amen"

THE FLAGPOLE

The spar of the famed ship
Old Ironsides holds the flag

SCHOOL BOARD. Mrs. Ernest Shiner, Mr. G. W. Snyder, Jr., Mr. T. A. Kerr, and Superintendent Godwin discuss the budget.

UNDER THE skilled leadership of Wendell Godwin, Superintendent of Schools, the six non-salaried school board members tried to solve the ever-present problems facing the school system of Topeka and the community in 1956 and 1957. Always responsible to the public and with the good of the individual students and teachers in mind, our hard working school board members strove to meet each new problem with understanding and foresight to benefit the students of today as well as those of future years.

Planning another high school for Topeka are Dr. Gordon Summers, Mr. Robert Schendel, president, and Dr. Richard Greer.

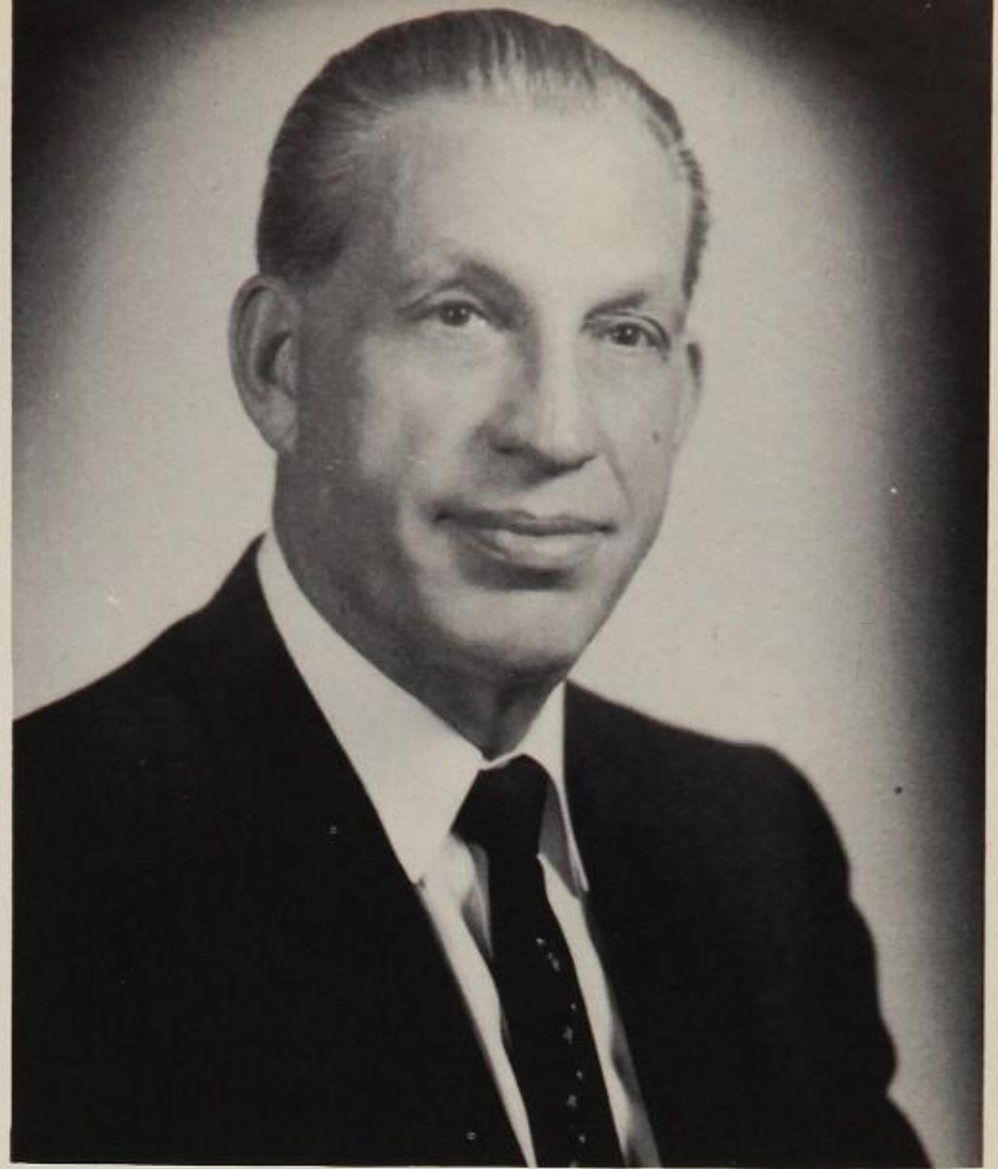

Considering the personnel problem are Mrs. LaVon Armandariz, secretary, Mr. James W. Porter, and Mr. Charles Sheetz. Missing, Miss Elizabeth Donaldson, treasurer.

Administration Lends Helping Hand

THE ADMINISTRATORS of Topeka High School looked toward the future years as they advised us, the entire student body, about the problems and rewards we would face as the citizens of tomorrow.

Theirs was the complicated task of co-ordinating all academic and social functions, and promoting better student-teacher relationship in the halls of Troy. Whether settling a disturbing problem of discipline, selecting a prospective college or future vocation, or merely giving a word of encouragement whenever needed, our cooperative administration lent many a helping hand to both the faculty and the students.

Otto Bodenhause
Dean of Boys

Busy with a million details—Mr. Weaver.

Intent on details of the new eligibility lists, faculty members set an example of good attention to their speaker. Room 103 is the usual meeting place on these once-a-month occasions.

'Aid to Others' Is Faculty Motto

IN CLOSE contact with the students during the school year, the faculty was always willing to give assistance when needed. We learned to look toward these people for leadership as they taught us not only their subjects, but also about ourselves and others. To us they were not just teachers, because we knew them as friends and sponsors of clubs, programs, and other extra-curricular activities.

Busy as they were, the teachers found time to take part in various civic, religious, and social affairs around Topeka, to be active in the Faculty Guild, and to work in professional organizations.

Some even spent their summer months in university study and travel. Thus they broadened their knowledge of subject matter and kept pace with new methods of instructions.

Many new teachers joined the faculty this year and quickly became a part of our Trojan family in the hustle and bustle of Topeka High's full schedule.

Although we may not have shown it at times, we will remain grateful to these teacher-friends for their patience and understanding toward us as they instructed and guided us through the years.

Through this door pass the hungry and the well fed. Beyond a second door is the Cavalier room, for private luncheon conferences and free-hour meetings.

Office Staff Aims at Efficiency

MUCH CREDIT should be given to Topeka High's efficient office staff. Always on the job, they performed the varied tasks of secretaries, attendance clerk, switchboard operator, registrar, and bookkeeper. We can thank them for daily bulletins, and for keeping our school running smoothly in general.

Other members of the T.H.S. staff vital to all Topeka High students are the school nurse, always willing to help ailing Trojans, and the cafeteria director aided by her assistants.

A pleasant voice is Peggy Brown's chief asset as she operates the busy switchboard and checks in late comers.

Hail and Farewell — The Seniors

He's "high man on the totem pole." Top senior Ed Saylor borrows top administrator Weaver's desk for a few moments of official business.

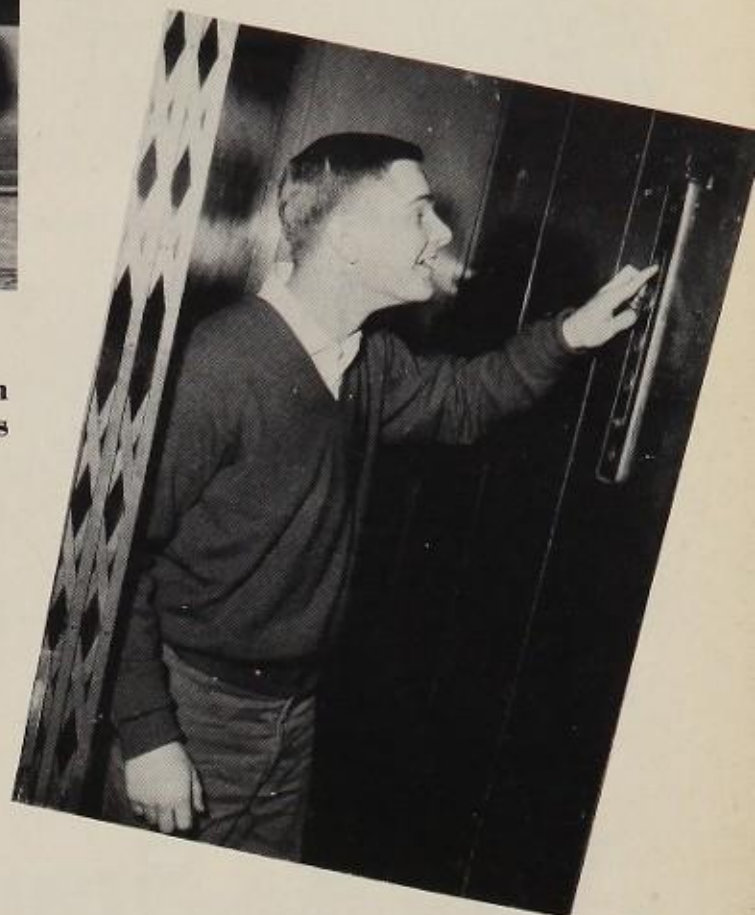

WE CAME TOGETHER, over 500 individuals, and WHILE WE WERE HERE, we made an outstanding record for ourselves. NOW AS WE LEAVE, although we are still individuals, there is a common bond of friendship and knowledge gained, pride in our school, and a faith in the future. WE CAME TOGETHER—Three short years ago, our class began the journey through a trio of the most important years of our lives. The goal set ahead of us for the end of our journey was to put the Class of '57 down in Troy's "Hall of Fame" as outstanding.

AND WHILE WE WERE HERE — Plunging into our school work and extracurricular activities with enthusiasm, we made our mark scholastically as well as in clubs, dramatics, student government, and athletics.

NOW AS WE LEAVE—Our journey is ended now and our common road branches into many paths. We are sad to leave and yet we have a faith in the future. The friendships we have made here will not be forgotten, and Topeka High will always be thought of as "our school."

Sunny Robertson had to get help from an adding machine for her heavy duties as treasurer.

"Why didn't someone think of this before?" Chuck Hotchkiss is on his way up in the world.

"Let's see. Who can I put on the refreshment committee?" — Bev Elliott.

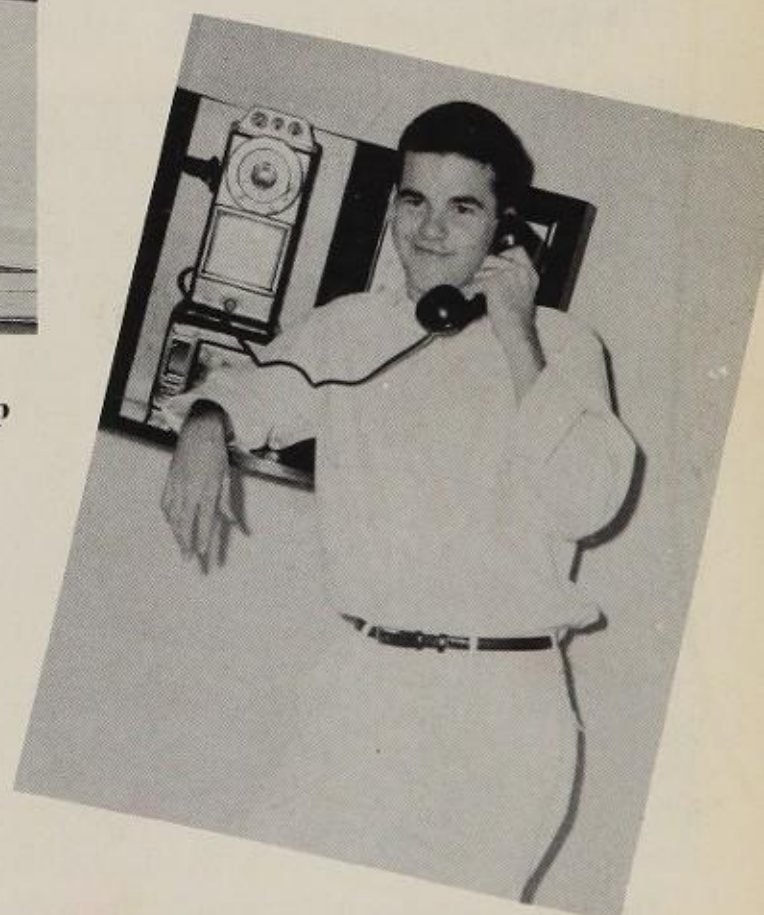

Mary Jo Burke takes time out from her rep duties to study chemistry.

"Cokes, anybody?" Larry Hercules indulges in a favorite past-time.

Up and coming leaders, the junior officers pose behind the parapet outside the Tower Room. Paul Ingemanson, Carolyn Bengt, Suzanne Bird, Barry Bray, Loretta Lovell, Sharon Eldien, and Bob Christenson.

Betwixt and 'Tween — the Juniors

Social chairman Sharon Eldien confers with Miss Martha Herrick, junior class sponsor, about plans for the prom.

AS JUNIORS this year we had an advantage over the other classmen, for we could look to both the past and the future of our three high school years. The sophomores, being new this year at THS, had nothing to look back on as we had our first year at Troy. The seniors, since it was their last year at Topeka High, had the sad prospect of leaving, no more to tread the halls of Troy.

We played an even bigger part in the life of Topeka High this year than we did as sophomores. The representatives from our class to Girls' and Boys' State, and those chosen for the summer American Field Service program abroad proved to be excellent choices, and made us proud of our class. Working hard on the Junior-Senior Prom was fun and rewarding, for it was greatly appreciated by the seniors in whose honor it was presented.

Now we are looking forward to our senior year when we will be the leaders. We feel we can face it with the confidence and knowledge we have gained from our previous years at Topeka High.

Look Mom! No face! The juniors seemed unusually shy this year.

NEW STUDENTS. FRONT ROW: Paul Hansen, Melvern, Kansas; Carol Farber, Silver Springs, Maryland; Ruth Parrish, Pontiac, Michigan; Inez Staatz, Vona, Colorado; Linda Barbarow, Topeka, Kansas; and Bill Kirby, El Dorado, Kansas. ROW 2: James Alexander, Salina, Kansas; and John Lange, Toledo, Ohio.

RECORDING ALL THE memorable events of the year in pictures for both the SUNFLOWER and WORLD, the photographers played an important role in Topeka High's journalism department. After school and mornings, as well as during school hours, these boys could be seen with their equipment taking pictures of the various activities.

Special training was provided for THS photographers last spring when Quill and Scroll paid their way to the photographer's training session at Kansas University.

Having no sponsor this year, the boys were unable to develop their own pictures as they had done in previous years, so the job was done commercially. Augmenting the work of the photographers were Robert Victor and Mr. John Blevins of the Trade School, as well as Mr. V. B. Rose, a commercial photographer.

Familiar sights around Troy were the SUNFLOWER and WORLD photographers, David Dunford, David Fisher, and Charles Billington.

Snow fights tempt the Sophomore officers gathered on the south walk. John Oberhelman, Linda Swanson, and Marcia Myers are representatives; Tom Mistler is president; Judy Fitts, secretary-treasurer; and Tammie Fraker is social chairman. Ron Hodges, kneeling, is vice-president.

New Faces, Hopes — the Sophomores

Down near the goal posts, Sophomore cheerleaders Nancy Jaspersen, Sallee Tappen, Linda Anderson, and Diane Tuttle salaam for a Trojan victory.

SOPHOMORES WE WERE this year — the lowly "scrubs." We remember our first impressions of this place——big, lonely, mysterious. Then it was only a large brick building which seemed to belong to others and meant nothing to us except a place to which we had to go each week day. We walked through the long dark corridors without seeing any familiar faces, being shoved or pushed this way and that by upperclassmen. Gradually though, as the year progressed, we caught that fighting Trojan spirit, and became a part of this high school and a part of the hustle and bustle that goes hand in hand with growing up at Troy. We joined clubs; took part in student government, sports, and assembly programs; gained knowledge from the study of practical courses such as math and English; and acquired many new and lasting friendships with both students and faculty. Now, at the end of our first year and as we look forward to the next, we too can refer to Topeka High School as "our" school and to ourselves as Trojans.

Mr. Kenneth Meyers, director of the summer school program.

Seated around a square "round table," Mrs. Greer's summer English class varies its routine with class discussions.

Additional Opportunities Offered

As extra-curricular work, Barbara Brown learns from Mrs. Arlene Mulholland of the night school faculty how to "hold the bag" in a cake decorating class.

THAT BELL at 3:30 is the signal of the end of the school day for THS students; but for others it only brings closer the time for the night classes at Troy to begin. The adult program is offered to all members of the community, and a high school education may be completed or advanced courses taken for pleasure or to further the particular training desired. Besides the academic work, there are some college courses, others in business and home-making skills, art crafts, and ones for self improvement.

The summer months allow another opportunity to acquire an education at Topeka High. During the eight week period, students who lose credits or wish to earn extra ones may attend morning classes. Teachers are from the regular faculty, and courses are offered in English, American government and history, typing, and drivers' training.

Imaginative Touch Key to Success

IMAGINATION WAS combined with skill as creative minds worked overtime in Topeka High's art department this year. Ordinary paper took on new qualities as individual styles were developed and new techniques were learned.

Engaged in designing jewelry, weaving mats, tooling leather, wood carving, enamelling, and ceramics, the art craft students were constantly kept busy fulfilling their various assignments.

The attractive display windows on the main floor of the building were projects of the art students, who created many unique and lively arrangements during the year. Publicity for the plays, operetta, other school activities, and special days was given a bright touch by the many posters turned out by the art department.

The art gallery this year displayed not only the work of our own Trojans, but also the masterpieces and productions of several noted artists, photographers, and craftsmen.

Janet Horton waits her turn at a workbench where Bob Ebendorf is soldering his silver ring.

Washing up is the final chore after an hour of creative work: Bob Munoz, Ellen Denzler, and Alan Wilder.

"Let's see, now, does it have an 'i' or 'e'." Mr. Williams with Clyde Channel and Georgia Zent work on word exploring with the dictionary.

Library Provides Valuable Aid for

Interest in Book Week-1956, centered around the glowing fire with new books on display.

"IT'S A FAR, far better thing I do," was a familiar line to the various English students. Though only two years of English are required at THS, many students felt the necessity of taking several other advanced courses offered by the English department which was under the supervision of Miss Mary Hopkins.

Speech training, play production, and public speaking attracted those students also interested in dramatics, while journalism was offered to students thinking of specific literary vocations in the publications field. For improving writing ability, a creative writing class was popular.

The department sponsored poetry and essay contests and promoted the junior and sophomore spelling bees in an all-school improvement campaign.

English Scholars

"Every week should be Book Week." This statement could well serve as the motto of Topeka High's fine library. Books to fit every mood and to interest every student could be obtained for use by merely checking them out, a small price to pay for education and pleasure.

The library was not only a place to find new books, but it also provided a beautiful and quiet place for study. For the first time in years, a fire was burned in the library fireplace during the winter months, adding to the homey atmosphere.

Our librarian, Miss Marilyn Miller, assisted by Mrs. Naomi Cowger and Mrs. Ruth Gladfelter were ably helped in their many and varied duties by the members of the Student Assistant Librarian's Council, who learned to make better use of the library for themselves and others.

Mrs. Marjorie French directs the math department.

Laws, Logarithms Test Abilities

Janet Barnett and Tom Jackson bisect an angle in advanced math.

A WIDE SCOPE of courses was offered to the math students this year, ranging from a business arithmetic course to advanced math and college algebra. All these courses trained the student in logical reasoning and stressed the importance of accuracy.

In the first year algebra classes, the principles of equations and factoring were emphasized. The more advanced classes dealt with the study of logarithms. In all geometry classes the students studied the relationship of lines and planes in space, and the surfaces and volumes of three dimensional figures.

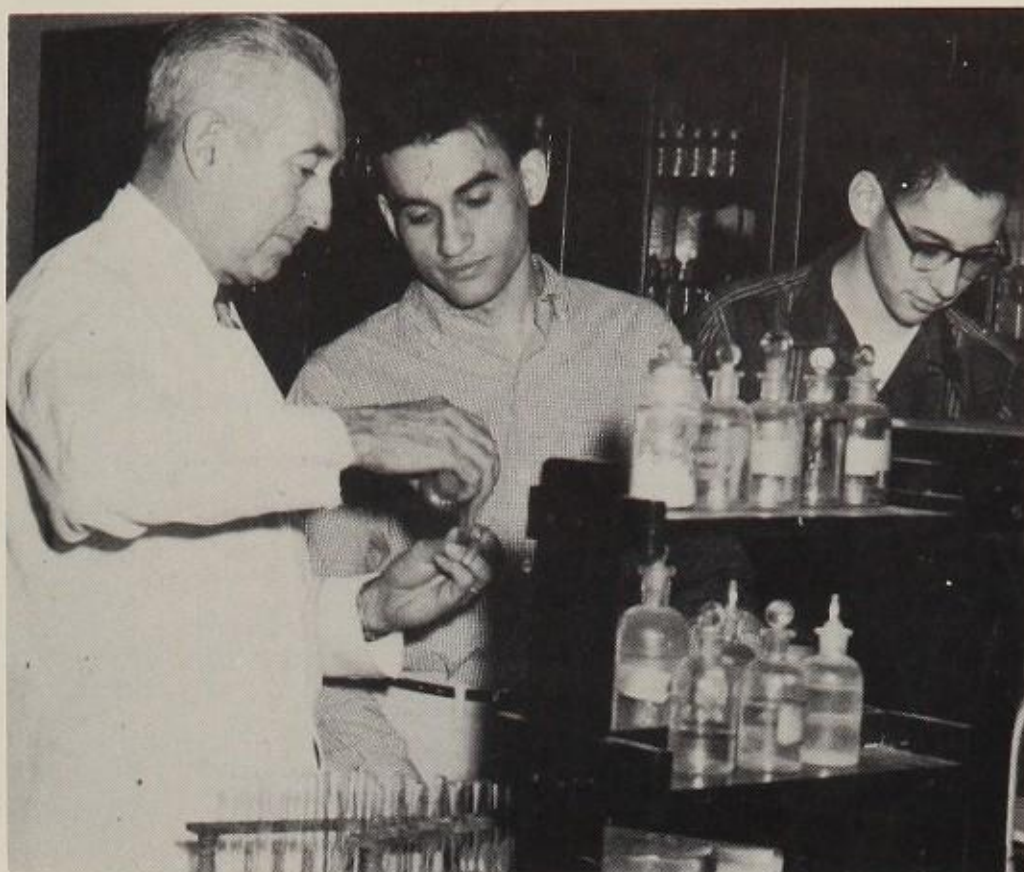

For the first time, a Trojan math teacher, Mrs. Marjorie French, attended the National Math Teachers' Convention. She brought back to Troy new teaching methods which had been successful in other schools.

Doors Open to Many Science Skills

FROM THE FIRST frog dissected to the last test tube broken, those students whose interest was in the field of science found the courses most stimulating. Those planning on a career in engineering enjoyed physics and chemistry while others enjoyed the biological sciences.

The botany class could often be seen during the year observing leaves and tree formations. While the biology classes studied the plant and animal kingdoms, the chemistry classes sought the answer to what determines chemical reactions by experimenting in the laboratory.

Each year an outstanding senior at Topeka High is presented the Bausch and Lomb Award, the selection being made by the science teachers who opened doors for students into this rewarding field.

The frog is studied in biology because its anatomy is similar to that of the human. Group demonstration is made by Miss Hutchison to Barbara Bennett, Darrell Shores, and Dan Carlson.

After an unique lesson, Jann Burns and Nadine Harrison replace organs in the mannequin used in the physiology class.

Getting an early start for a homemaking career, Shirley Chase, Margarette Wettengel, Darlene Schwartz, and June Adkins sample a luncheon menu prepared in a foods class.

THE HOME ECONOMICS department offered many beneficial courses dealing with all phases of homemaking. All girls enrolled in the home economics department were trained in values, skills, and attitudes essential in providing successful and happy homes. Classes such as home management, home nursing and child development, social living, and home decoration, as well as sewing and cooking were included in the curriculum.

This year the home economics department sponsored style shows for all the girls in school. Presented by leading pattern companies and modeled by girls of the department, these fashions presented a preview of the new style trends.

Precision of workmanship and skillful budgeting of time were the goals established in the clothing classes, while girls enrolled in the foods classes learned the importance of balanced diets and how to prepare meals attractively.

Ancient, Modern World Investigated

FACED WITH the problems of teaching students to become better qualified citizens was the social studies department's challenge, coordinated by Miss Robena Pringle. To help us understand this complex world were: American history, required of juniors, dealing with the political, economic, and social development of the United States; and American government, also required, giving students a deeper understanding of the political system of the country.

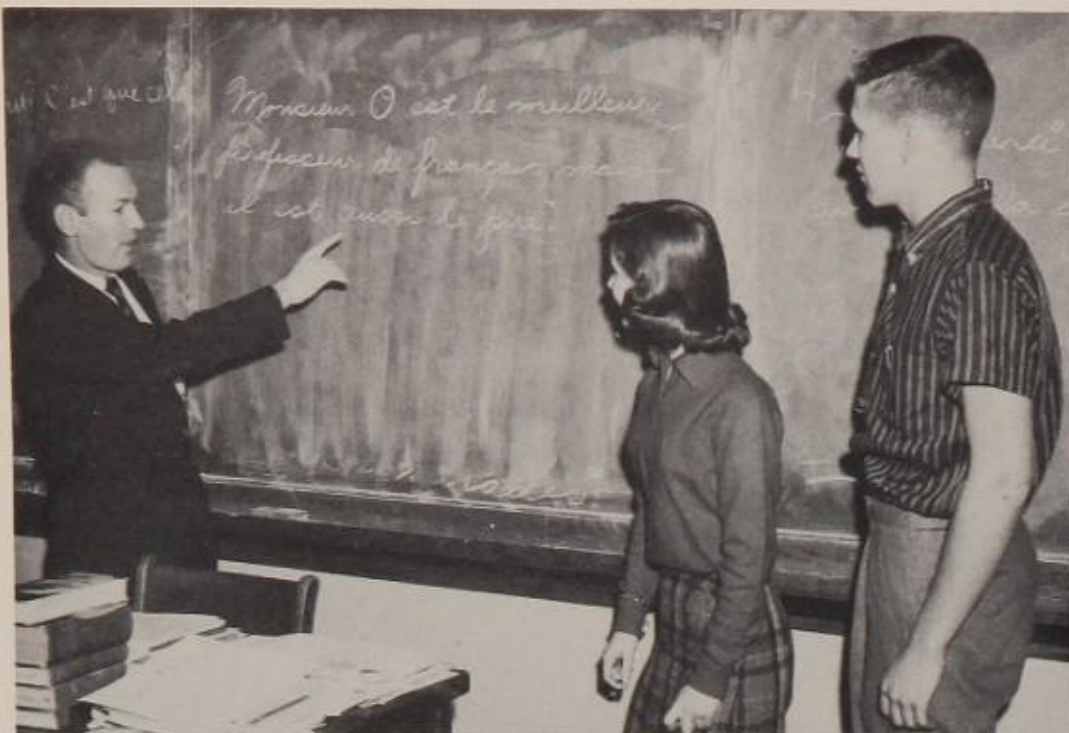

World history covered the span of civilization from ancient to modern; world background provided a semester course for those who wanted a briefer summary of history; contemporary American problems, the newest addition to the department, gave students a detailed study of current problems; psychology aided students in a better knowledge of themselves and others; and family relations concerned family life, dating, courtship, and marriage. Together, these courses built a firm foundation for future knowledge.

Trio of Languages

THE STUDY OF LANGUAGE at THS gave students insight into the world and civilizations of the past, as well as the basic fundamentals of the language. French, Spanish, and Latin were the subjects taught in this department.

First year students were concerned mainly with learning the basics of the language, while the second and third year students delved even deeper into the fundamentals and did extra reading.

At Christmas time a familiar sound throughout the language wing was that of voices raised in song. The language classes met together for several days before Christmas vacation and sang the traditional Christmas carols in the foreign language they were studying.

Important features of the language department were the clubs sponsored by the departmental faculty. These en-

Last summer, second year Spanish students took a trip to Mexico, chaperoned by THS teachers, Mr. Joseph Montes and Mr. Jerry O'Sullivan, and brought back many valuable experiences to their fellow classmates.

V. G. Weese, a Trojan member, was state Latin Club president at the convention held in Topeka, March 23. Planning of the convention was done by Topeka members aided by Mrs. Helen Sutherin. The meetings were held in the new Kansas State Teachers Association building, across the street from Topeka High. The day's activities included business meetings, programs, a tour of the THS building, and luncheon in the cafeteria.

Orchestra and String Ensemble

THE IMPRESSIVE sixty-piece Topeka High orchestra under the direction of Mr. Robert Hallman was exceptionally well organized this year. They furnished many and varied musical selections for the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies, as well as dramatic and musical productions, vespers, and concerts. In order to provide Troy with this fine entertainment, the orchestra members put in numerous long hours of practice. Performing over television and giving concerts for the junior high schools also kept the orchestra busy throughout the year; and by the enthusiastic response the organization received wherever it played, it was evident that the varied repertoire appealed to every taste.

Many members of the orchestra and several talented sectional ensembles won awards by representing THS at the district and state festival held in the spring. The ensembles were also kept busy playing for countless civic clubs, and church groups.

An added honor bestowed upon the orchestra this year was the selection of three senior members to play with the Topeka Civic Symphony. The three talented recipients of this award were Claudia Beatty, violinist, Thelma Latter, harpist, and Warren Wood, tympani.

Color to Musical Display

PRACTICING ON THE parade grounds during early morning hours became routine for the band members as they worked to perfect their drills. Following the signal of the drum major, Beverly Gorrell, and a diagram showing exactly where each member belonged, the band soon became known for their precision.

This versatile ninety-piece marching band under the direction of George Neaderhiser, assisted by Robert Hallman, also doubled as a concert band. Whether performing outdoors in parades and half-time ceremonies, or on stage for various civic groups and assemblies, they proved their ability as excellent musicians. The members mastered both modern and classical numbers as they ended this year by presenting their annual spring concert.

The band members were honored this year by being asked to march in the Inaugural parade. Performing in sub-zero weather, the musicians found that mid-January is not the most desirable time to march.

The main project of the band this year was the campaign to raise money to replace the present twenty-year-old uniforms. Sponsored by the entire music department, 20 percent of the operetta profits went to the fund.

MEETING DURING THE fifth period on a study hall basis each school day, the Topeka High School dance band mastered all types of danceable music to fit moods from gay or happy to melancholy. They performed many times during the year under the direction of Mr. George Neaderhiser, and their style of jazz and standards had a professional touch.

Many early morning hours were spent in marching practice by the six Trojan majorettes and drum major, Beverly Gorrell. These girls appeared often before the student body in their white satin and patriotic gold and black uniforms, and led the marching band in performing intricate drills at football games and in downtown parades.

Glee Clubs Sing, Work in Harmony

TOPEKA HIGH'S MUSIC department has long been recognized as outstanding. All Trojans can feel proud of being represented by these talented groups as they appeared many times before various organizations in the Topeka area. The annual operetta and the spring concerts were examples of the merits of their hard work and the many hours of practice that were willingly shared with both the student body and the public.

Two vocal groups that performed frequently during this school year were the Boys' Senior Glee and the Girls' Senior Glee. Meeting during a class period each day and composed of an unlimited number of above average voices, the members of these two organizations were chosen during tryouts held during the spring.

The girls in black dresses adorned with a T.H.S. monogram, and the boys in uniform aqua sweaters, white shirts, and dark slacks, sang at various civic clubs and junior high schools throughout the city. These groups also took part in Topeka High's operetta, "Sweethearts", forming the choral background.

Best Public Relations

THE CHOIR, Topeka High School's largest mixed vocal group, made many impressive appearances in their black robes and gold stoles. This sixty-five member unit, under the direction of Mr. Elbert Fly, spent many hours in classroom preparation. Besides taking part in the operetta, "Sweethearts," the Trojan choir appeared in various assemblies, sang for civic organizations, particularly at the holiday season, and sent representatives to the spring music festivals. The choir specialized in numbers of a religious nature, but many of their most enjoyable songs were in a lighter vein.

The Madrigal Singers, also under the direction of Mr. Fly, is composed of the finest singing talent in the THS music department. As an a cappella group, the Madrigals carried a heavy schedule, appearing often before church and civic organizations. They sang in formal attire, seated around a banquet table.

The Madrigals' biggest job seemed to be the clothes problem. Keeping formal suits and dresses cleaned and pressed is no small item according to Marsha Legg and Eldon Tichenor.

THE TROJAN DEBATERS spent many hours this year compiling pro and con cases on the question, "Resolved: That the Federal Government should sustain the prices of major agriculture products at not less than 90 per cent of parity."

This year's tournaments proved successful for these persuasive orators. As a reward for their diligent work, they were awarded third place trophies at Salina and Hutchinson; second place at Wyandotte, Derby and the District Tournament at Manhattan; and first place at Emporia and Lawrence. The victory at District made the four speaker team of Becky Grantham, Brock Spencer, Jim Pantle, and Charles Buffon eligible to compete in the State Tournament held in Lawrence. The squad, under the direction of Mr. J. M. Hill, met stiff competition, but because of their dynamic speaking ability, they were successful in capturing the much coveted trophy, making THS the state champs for the fifth time in six years.

Debate members have many duties to perform before they entertain tournament guests. Jim Pantle, Bob Christensen, Charles Buffon, and Becky Grantham.

Trained for Posts in Business World

WELL QUALIFIED because of their excellent background, students majoring in business at Topeka High got a thorough introduction to the fast-moving whirl commonly called the "business world." The department, headed by Mr. Jesse Teel, offered such courses as typing, office practice, transcription, business law, stenography, bookkeeping, business arithmetic, and retail selling.

The students in bookkeeping had a taste of what accounting consists of through practice sets, while typing students mastered an extremely useful skill by engaging in daily drills. The fundamentals of office work, from filing to letter writing, were taught in office practice.

It made no difference if the student's goal was to get permanent employment or merely to land a good summer job, the experience and knowledge gained were valuable to all.

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP, skill, and co-ordination were developed in our physical education classes. One year of phys ed is required for every Topeka High student and is usually taken in the sophomore year, although second year gym is also offered.

Girls' first year gym classes participated in a varied number of sports. Archery was the first sport attempted, followed by field hockey for some of the classes and soccer for others. The indoor sports of basketball, volley ball, deck tennis, and table tennis came when cold weather necessitated a variety.

Second year girls' phys ed classes participated in advanced sports such as tennis, badminton, bowling, and fencing for the first semester. Second semester was devoted entirely to modern dance, where the girls

RECOGNITION IS deserved by the many proctors who aided the faculty of our high school. These reliable students performed many necessary tasks around Topeka High. Proctoring is done on a study hall basis by those who do not feel the need of that extra study time each day.

The room proctors helped eliminate the load of the teachers by helping grade papers, running errands, filing cards, and doing various kinds of busy work. Proctors in the gym offices had the extra tasks of typing and taking roll, while the dependable hall proctors helped keep order in the halls during lunch periods and gave information to visitors and newcomers to Topeka High.

The duties of the office proctors were to distribute special bulletins, memos, and call slips, along with filing cards and other odd jobs around the office. Attendance

THE TRADE SCHOOL, housed in its own building, is an important part of the school system. There high school students, as well as veterans and other youth, serve as apprentices in gaining mechanical knowledge in addition to the regular requirements for high school graduation. Through a close relationship with Topeka's labor and management committees, changes in methods and new developments are studied and job opportunities are made known ahead of time.

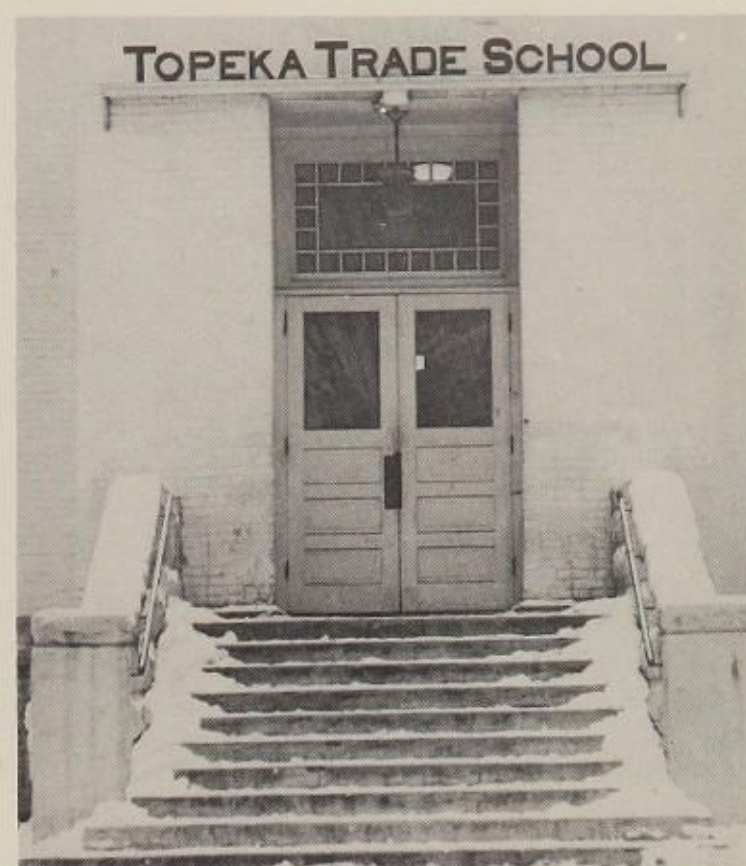

Students are screened, then enrolled in trade school classes during their junior and senior years, and after completing training are issued special certificates. These plus personal recommendations lead to fine jobs.

Expert Instruction for Vocations

They spend the first three hours of the school day in regular classes before going to the trade school building for their specialized instruction in photography, welding, radio, electricity, auto mechanics, and machine shop.

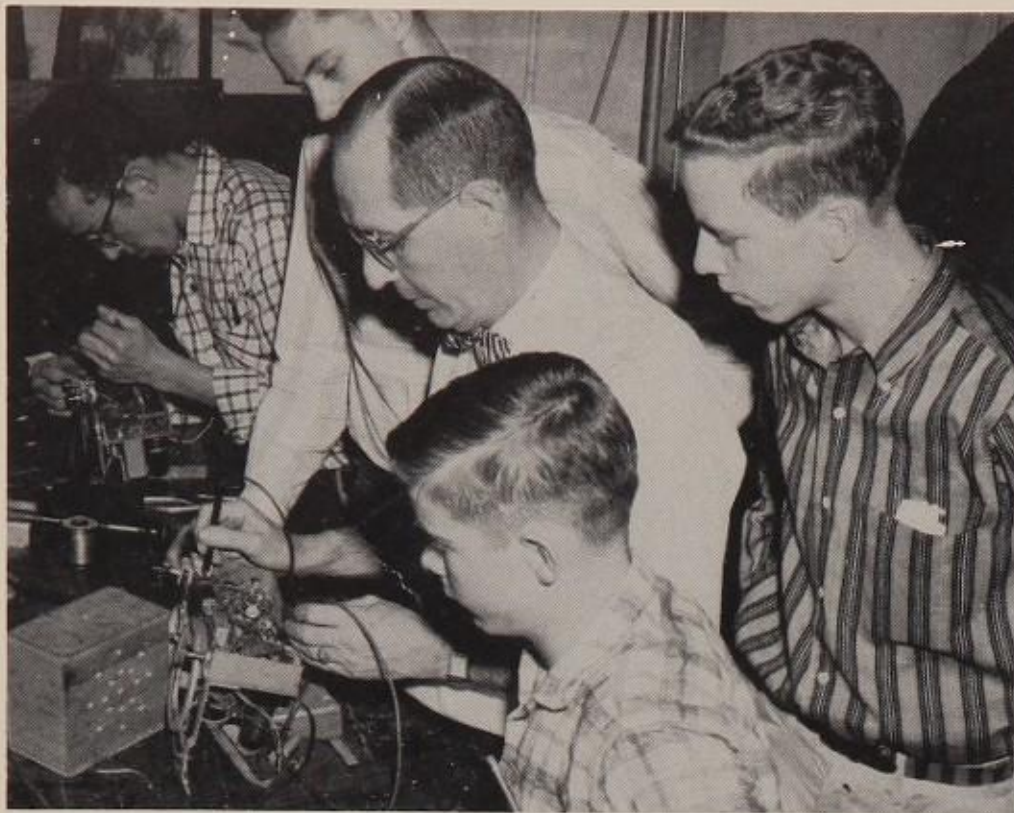

Printing classes are held in the main building where a new linotype and press have increased the training equipment. This department does most of the printing for the whole school system, and with added machines in the near future, a complete shop giving full training will be developed. A chief job for these students is the setting of headlines and the make-up of pages for The World, and The Slate, a new school system publication.

The new linotype looks like a puzzle to some, but to Jack Darrow it is becoming as simple as a typewriter. Mr. Gilbert adjusts a lever.

Ed Alberg and Bob Anderson spend profitable hours at their woodworking bench building and finishing furniture.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARTS courses at Topeka High, coordinated by Mr. Loren Nuzman, presented a variety of techniques and skills to be mastered. Serving as a background for later vocations, the various subjects included were mechanical drawing, woodworking, auto mechanics, radio, electricity, stagecraft, and driver's training.

For students who wanted to gain a working knowledge of the modern automobile there was auto mechanics. Or if they were interested in an engineering vocation, mechanical drawing was offered. Radio was taught to acquaint boys with radio theory as well as a knowledge of servicing the units. Electricity courses gave boys opportunities to learn its many uses in modern living during our busy daily schedules.

Mike Smith and James McNeil find that there is more to making an engine run than just turning it on.

Mr. Loren Nuzman, director of industrial arts.

Vocational and Sparetime Interests

All the props and scenery for plays, parties, musicals, and assemblies were designed, constructed, and painted by the hard-working students of the stage craft classes. Classes in woodworking gave boys opportunities to make articles for personal use as well as to develop skills and technical abilities. These courses combined to teach the students of today skills that will make more efficient laborers of tomorrow.

A new and beneficial organization started at Topeka High this year was the radio club. The club received its charter, and held group meetings probing into the complicated process of radio electricity. A senior student, Bill Brandenburg, originated the idea for this club which was sponsored by Mr. Charles Shoyer.

The breakfast experiment was fun but didn't prove its point—the Trojans who ate breakfast at home were the ones who enjoyed the extra snack rather than the meal skippers.

Efficient Workers

INVOLVED IN MUCH of the background work around Topeka High, the custodians served both day and night. They swept the long, dark corridors, emptied wastebasket after wastebasket, and also kept a careful watch over goings-on in the basement of Troy. Members of the custodial force also kept the girls' and boys' locker rooms and rest rooms in order.

The biggest headache of these hardworking men was "locker cleanout day." After the students had cleaned out those messy lockers, the custodians waded through piles of debris, broken test tubes, and many other nondescript articles which were not placed in trashboxes, but scattered all over the halls.

The cafeteria workers were also a hard working group who deserved more credit and thanks than they received.

Preparing all of the food and serving it to the student body, these men and women "slaved over hot ovens" many hours each day, besides working overtime for special occasions such as Open House. A new idea tried this year was the serving of breakfast to students in the teacher's cafeteria. This necessitated the cafeteria workers getting to school even earlier to prepare this food. Performed on a trial basis for two weeks, the plan was abandoned because it was felt that the students who needed the breakfast were not taking advantage of it.

The campaign waxes fast and furious with a sea of colored posters waving over the rumble and shrieks of the crowd.

Enthusiasts Cheer 'Swaham';

"Posters must be no larger than 18 by 24 inches." Campaigner Sue Coleman and candidate Judy Coffman visit the poster gallery in the foyer.

Tense and determined, three candidates, Ruth McCune, Joan French, and Marcia Nelson, rehearse their assembly speeches back in the wings. Candidates spoke in class groups and presented qualifications in 1-minute talks.

THE WEEK THAT politics invaded Troy is an event that every Trojan will long remember. Our student elections this year surpassed other years in the number of candidates registering, as well as color, excitement, and close races; and proved truly outstanding in the spirit with which the student body participated. Yells of "We Want Swan" and "Go Barham" echoed through the halls sounding like "We Go Swaham", until some poor sophomores thought a dark horse had entered the race for Student Congress President.

Justice Harold Fatzer of the Kansas Supreme Court swears in the seven senior class officers in the impressive, annual induction assembly.

Rally New Idea

A SUCCESSFUL new addition to the week's festivities was the Election Rally held in the student cafeteria. This was done to acquaint the students with the candidates before the campaigning began.

Governed completely by the students under the authority of John Dawson, Election Commissioner, and Judy Tyler, Election Clerk, the elections made Trojans realize the value of democracy and governmental participation. The sponsors this year were Miss Phyllis Aley and Mr. Lloyd Kistler.

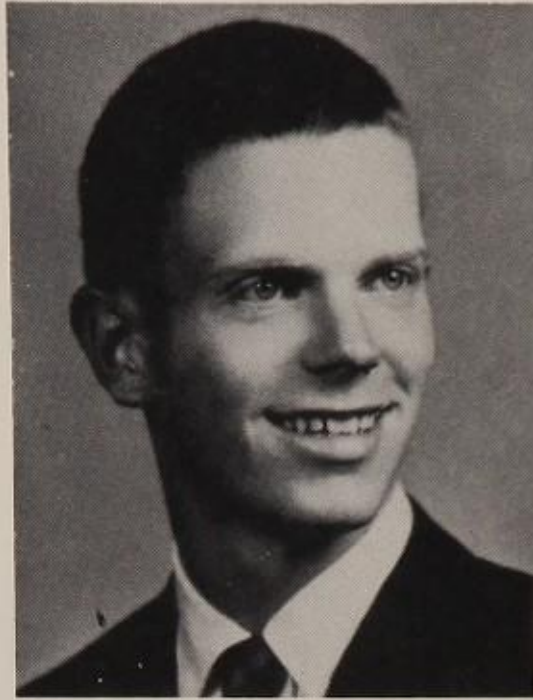

At the election rally, Verna (or was it Myrna?) Frazer speaks on her qualifications while Judy Tyler and John Dawson contemplate their problems.

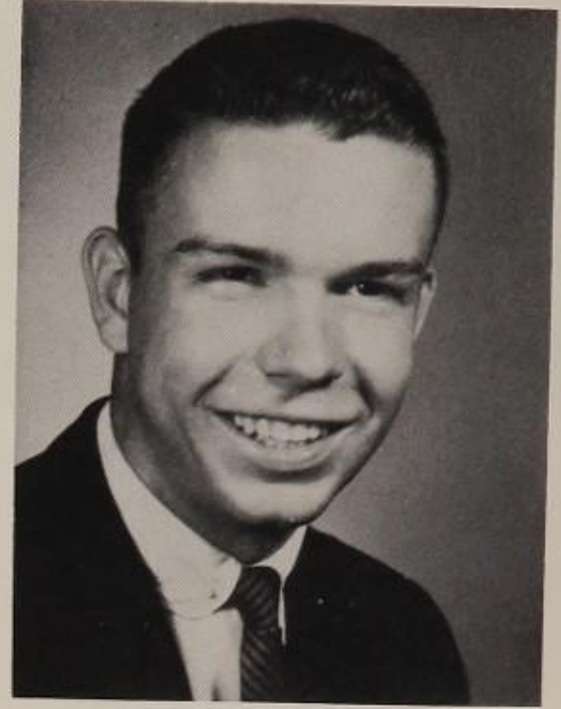

Comrade Laing leads the class in "Brainwashing I" in the all-school skit at the election assembly. Present and accounted for are Bill Peterman, Connie Casey, Karen Martin, Steve White, John Wohlfarth, Janet Simpson, Steve Freidberg, and Karen Deeter.

PATTERNED AFTER our national government, Topeka High's Student Congress did a creditable job as the main student governing body. This active organization was presided over by Steve Swan and was sponsored by Mrs. Hazel Lingo and Mr. Jesse Teel. Made up of two bodies, Representative Council, paralleling the House of Representatives on the national level, and Student Council, paralleling the Senate, Student Congress either sponsored or aided in many of the activities that went on at THS.

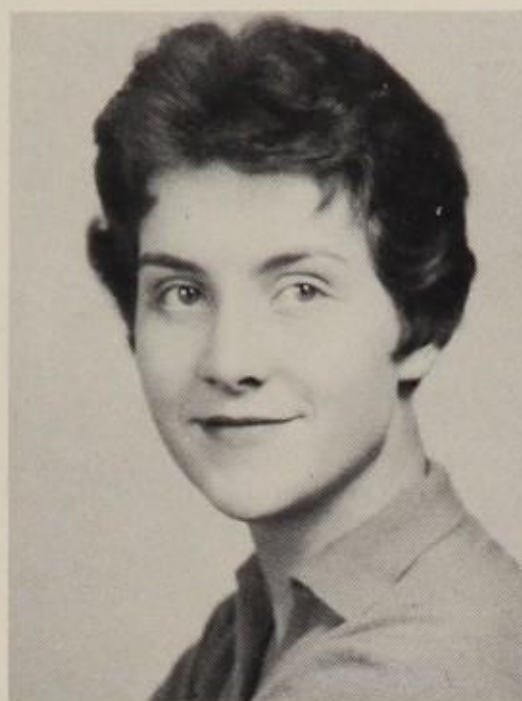

Student Council was made up of the president and representatives of each class, as well as ex-officio members. Dick Mills presided over the meetings, with assistance from Joyce Wright, secretary, and John Dawson, attorney.

Student Council had charge of the All-School Party, and also the officers' training course, held to give officers of all organizations at THS valuable instruction.

The two houses combined to carry out many important projects. Student Congress Week was set aside for different improvements around the school such as locker clean-out, the returning of overdue library books, and arousing school loyalty. The two houses also revised the point system and the election rules as well as administering other legislation.

Rep. Council Urges

THE LOWER HOUSE of Topeka High's Student Congress, Representative Council, was made up of a representative from each of the sixty-five homerooms. This governing body met every week and worked hard on special programs as well as the regular projects assigned to it each year. Each homeroom representative reported to his or her room all the important happenings on these weekly meetings, thus keeping the entire student body well informed on student activities.

Student Participation in Activities

Heading Representative Council for 1956-57 were Brock Spencer as speaker, Richard Mistler, as vice-speaker, and Karen Deeter as secretary. Sue Cross was attendance clerk; Susan Heil, treasurer; Jim Pantle, sergeant-at-arms; and Dennis Kelly, attorney. Mr. Jerry O'Sullivan was faculty sponsor.

Special projects this year included looking into such situations as the proposed city curfew, meeting with members of the city police department, and sending our cheerleaders to a training clinic during the summer months. As in other years, Representative Council revised the election rules and the point system, making changes where they felt improvement was necessary. The council also did an admirable job on their regular projects, Homecoming, Queen of Courts, and assisting with the sales of activity cards, SUNFLOWERS, and student directories.

PARTICIPATING IN many activities to strengthen the school were the Senior Girls' and Boys' Councils. The councils were composed of a reliable boy and girl chosen from each senior homeroom. The two groups combined forces to successfully complete many projects. They assisted the Topeka Traffic Bureau in taking a census to gain information which would help solve the parking problem in the downtown area. Measuring fellow seniors for caps and gowns was another job handled by the two councils. These senior boys and girls held a joint meeting where letters written by council members each describing their ideal boy or girl were read. These busy students also assisted with Topeka High School's Open House, sold senior announcements, and aided in the orientation of ninth graders during February, guiding them through the halls and classrooms of Troy.

To Improve School and Community

The councils also effectively carried out many individual projects. The girls acted as a reception committee at the Sophomore Parents' Night, greeting and directing visitors. A project of the Christmas season was a visit to the County Home, providing the residents with refreshments and entertainment. Following their good-will visit, the council held a surprise birthday party for Tere Aragones, the THS exchange student from Spain. The boys held meetings at which talks were given on various vocations by men with particularly interesting or unusual careers. They also served as guides on Career Day.

Chairmen of Senior Girls' Council were: Rose Mary Greco, Kay Storum, Earlene Knoles, and Sandy Hopkins. Officers of Senior Boys' Council were; Jeb Barham, president; Steve Poort, vice-president; and John McCabe, secretary-treasurer. Miss Annabel Pringle and Mr. Kenneth Meyers were sponsors.

Governing Processes Lure Staters

A thrill to any girl would be a trip as a state delegate to Girls' Nation. Nadine Harrison reported extra thrills came when she met Representative William Avery in Washington, D.C.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' States, organized to acquaint juniors selected from high schools throughout Kansas with their state government, were attended this year by eight Trojans. These students not only gained a better knowledge of government through studying, but they also learned through participating in an election of their "state" and "county" officers and by actually carrying on their own government for a week.

Representing Topeka High at Boys' State were Dennis Kelly, John Dawson, Jim Pantle, Charles Buffon, Mike Brown, and Dale Taylor. The Girls' Staters were Kathy Hayes and Nadine Harrison.

Creed of JRC 'Join and Serve'

AN ORGANIZATION well known for service to others is the Junior Red Cross. Membership in our council at Topeka High was much sought after. The meetings were open to everyone, but this membership was obtained only by those who worked extra hard on projects throughout the year. These eager participants helped make this year's projects successful by serving on committees under the direction of council members. They undertook such tasks as packing gift boxes at the chapter house, entering a float in the Homecoming parade, getting the International Chest ready to send overseas, and wrapping gifts at the State Hospital during the Christmas season.

The officers of this organization were: John Dawson, president; Brock Spencer, vice-president; Sandra Hopkins, secretary; Judy Tyler, treasurer; and Judy Coffman, attendance clerk. Mrs. Esther Kingman was sponsor.

Peace Through Firm Friendships;

From the day she arrived, Tere contributed to life at Troy. Here she entertains with a colorful flamenco.

IMPROVING INTERNATIONAL relations is the goal of the American Field Service. The ideals of this organization are clearly set forth in their motto; "Walk together, talk together, O ye peoples of the earth; then, and only then, shall ye have peace." The main function of AFS is the exchange of students from foreign countries with the United States. Our American Field Service Council at Topeka High was fortunate this year in being able to sponsor two foreign exchange students for the first time, a girl from Spain and a boy from Germany.

The THS council also carried on various activities throughout the year. Many of their meetings were opened to anyone wishing to attend, and featured interesting programs concerned with bringing countries closer together. An AFS float was entered in the Homecoming parade, and a drive to send clothes to foreign countries was sponsored by this council.

Mr. William Griffith was the new sponsor of the AFS council this year. Holding the top positions were: Jim Pantle, president; Pete Woodward, vice-president; Mary Lauterbach, recording secretary; Sylvia Swogger, corresponding secretary; and Steve Bennett, program chairman.

Staff Enlarges Book, Adds Color,

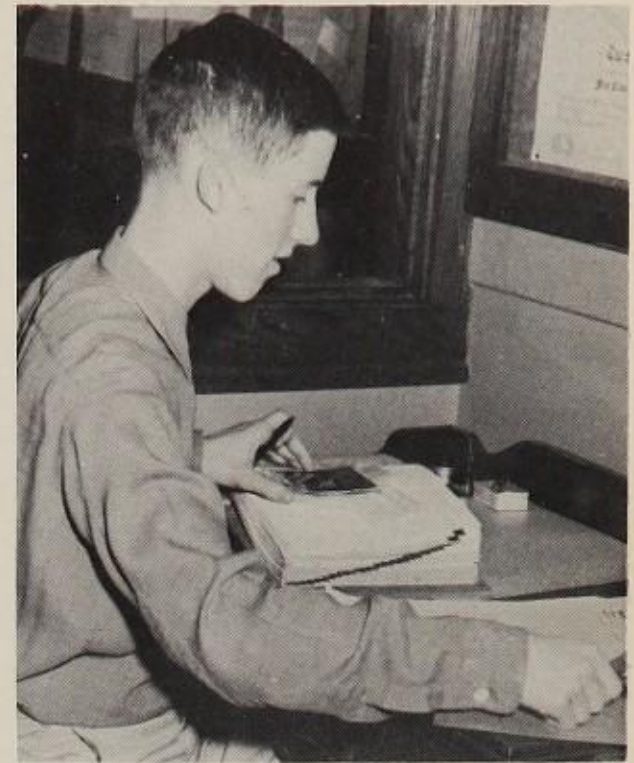

Sheila and her piggy bank posters, Bev and her layout pages, and Marilyn with her bookkeeping haunted the J-room for hours on end.

"HAVE YOU STARTED working on the SUNFLOWER yet?" This question was a pet peeve of the SUNFLOWER staff this year as they thought back to the many hours spent working on the yearbook. Beginning as early as last spring in an effort to make this year's SUNFLOWER the best ever, these industrious journalists worked many hours in the J-room after school and on Saturdays, as well as during the regular fourth hour period.

Holding the top position of the book was Virginia Smith who literally "kept her nose to the grindstone" the entire year. Editor "Chicken" had the extremely complicated job of organizing and editing all that went into the book, from the layout of pages to the checking of names under each picture, and the even greater challenge to make the book different.

The advisor, Mrs. William Greer, could always be found in room 219 with pen in hand; the staff would have been lost indeed without her patient and helpful guidance. They met each challenge, willing and eager, and solved problems as they arose. Now the job is done and with a feeling of pride, the staff presents the SUNFLOWER of 1957.

World Features Concise Coverage

PLAYING AN IMPORTANT part in every school is its newspaper, for not only does it keep a record of the year's events, but also gives students a chance to share ideas with each other. The WORLD, Topeka High's school newspaper, did just that.

Wednesdays and Thursdays found the J-room in bedlam as the staff members scurried about in an effort to meet their deadlines. Every Friday except vacations, the Trojans eagerly received their WORLDS during fifth hour.

Coverage of all the special activities such as elections, All-School party, plays and graduation, as well as the weekly features made the WORLD interesting. Among the features both entertaining and educational to all were: "Tower Views," opinions of editor-in-chief, John Peterson; "Now I Ask You," views of various students on specific questions; "Excerpts and Exchanges," news from other high schools; and "Letters to the Editor," where students could express their feelings on subjects of interest to the school. A large and well-planned sports section could also be found in every issue.

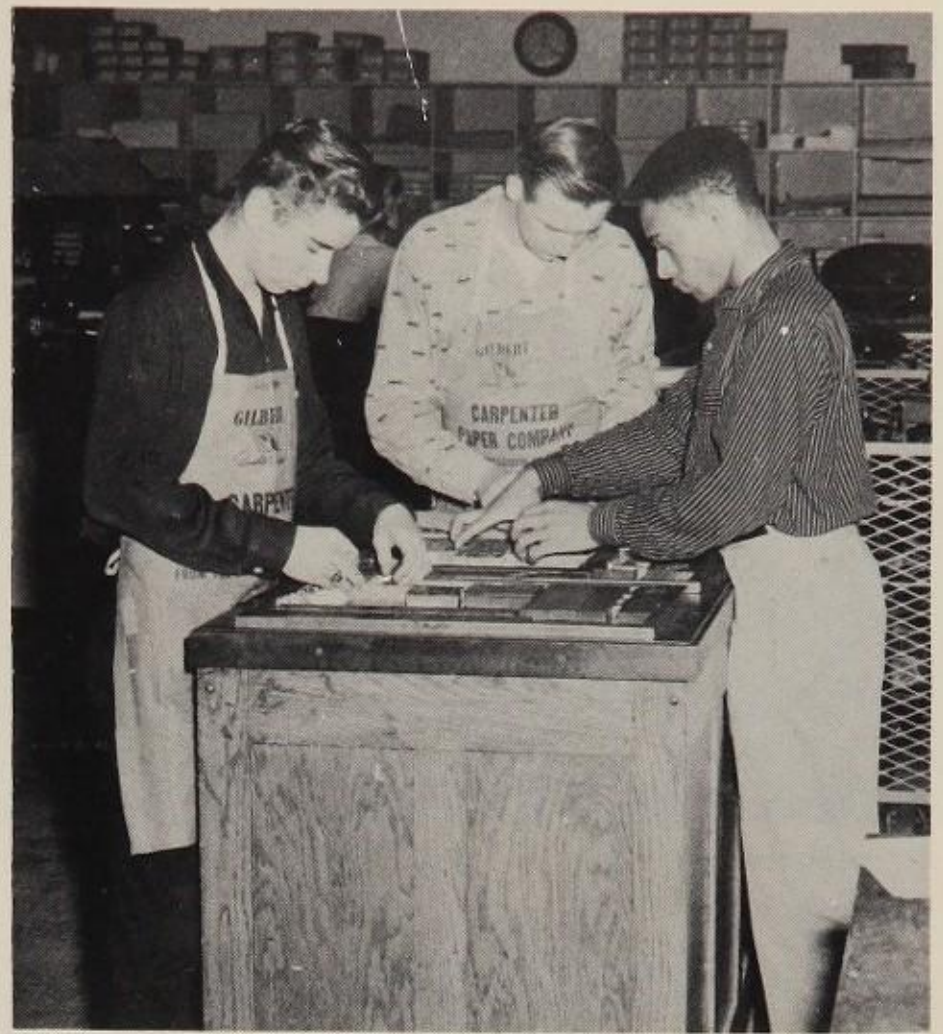

The purchase of a new linotype in the printing room enabled all type to be set here at Topeka High, while previously the type had been set commercially. A new press is a dream of the future.

Dennis Kelly, business manager, sends his assistants, Mary Ann Pearce and Anne Hubbard on their weekly tour of Topeka businesses.

Some of the biggest jobs of the week start after the WORLD comes out. Patty Daugherty folds papers for mailing and Elaine Williams keeps the clipping file up to date.

Putting the pages together each week is the job of the vocational printing boys: Bill Adkins, Larry Miller, and Arthur Clark.

Journalists Unite Internationally

Publications adviser, Mrs. William Greer, is the real "girl-Friday" of the J-Room.

TO BECOME A MEMBER of Quill and Scroll, the international honor society for journalists, the requirements of superior work in editing, writing or business management, as well as a B-grade average had to be met.

After working hard all year on the SUNFLOWER and WORLD, the accepted members attained the honor of belonging to this fine organization. The ceremony, held at Lawrence in March, was especially impressive and significant to the Topeka High School journalists. Joining forces with the Lawrence and Shawnee Mission journalism chapters, the members from Topeka initiated both their classmates and those from other schools.

Leading Quill and Scroll in their many projects this year, including the selling of plastic yearbook covers, were president, John Peterson; vice-president, Virginia Smith; secretary, Dorothy Trickett; and treasurer, Sibyl Riekenberg.

Key Club Aims at Good Citizenship

KEY CLUB is the junior Kiwanis organization of Topeka High; and as the Kiwanis Club serves the members of the community, the Key Club serves the students of the school.

With the goal of informing the sophomores and new students of life and customs at Troy, the boys compiled Trojan handbooks. They distributed baskets of food to needy families during the Christmas season, and engineered a safety program at Troy in the spring. A new and unique plan carried out was the sponsorship of a group of THS students that visited the city's junior high schools.

Officers of Key Club were: David Heath, president; Steve Swan, vice-president; Chuck Hotchkiss, secretary; Barry Bray, treasurer; and Steve Freidberg, building commissioner. Faculty sponsor of this active and hard-working organization was Mr. Owen Henson.

The chore of counting copies of the THS directory fell to Dave Heath, president, and Mr. Henson, sponsor.

Understanding Unites Many Faiths

"The World Is Our Field" was the appropriate theme of the mammoth Y.F.C. Club's prize-winning float.

THE BLENDING of Trojans' voices echoed throughout the third floor hall each Tuesday morning as the Youth For Christ Club held its meetings. The purpose of this religious group was "To stimulate interest in serving Christ and to form a fellowship group for the Christian teenagers of THS." The programs were many and varied, both interesting and inspirational, providing a religious outlook on daily life.

For the first time, the club members banded together to enter a float in the Homecoming parade. After working for weeks planning and completing a masterpiece, this effort paid off when their float was awarded a tie for first place. Active in other ways, club members put up posters, and sponsored city-wide interests.

The club officers were: Wanda Petefish, president; Sally Holston, vice-president; Gordon Phillips, social chairman; and Millie Tipton, song leader. Mr. Harold Dilley was faculty sponsor.

Stressing Role of Good Citizens

Y-Teen officers, Linda Baker, Linda Coons, and Virginia Gabe, receive their official club charter from Mr. E. B. Weaver.

Y-TEENS, WHICH was open to all girls, consisted of approximately 30 members. The president, Linda Baker, was aided by Miss Dorthadeen Moorman, Teenage Director of the "Y" and the cabinet members, Virginia Gabe, vice-president; Joan Pratt, secretary; Jacque Zirkle, treasurer; and Linda Coons and Janice Freel, Inter-club Council representatives. Among the worthwhile projects were carolling at the County Home, making tray favors, and helping the U. N. E. S. F.

The Hi-Y Club tried to "create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian fellowship throughout the school and community." The boys were very active this year, selling pennants to the student body and, as a service project, rebuilt the cabin at the Y. M. C. A. Camp, destroyed earlier in the year. Officers were: Bob Wanamaker, president; Larry Barngrover, vice-president; Carroll Kilgore, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Ostrode, chaplain. Mr. Otto Bodenhausen was sponsor.

Science Fans Probe Modern Age

Scientists often appeared before the entire student body. Chemist Elliott James demonstrates the properties of liquid air.

IN ITS SECOND YEAR as an organization, the Topeka High Science Club was sponsored by Mrs. Shirley Collins. Members of the group were those students wishing to do extra curricular work in science.

Two trips were taken by the club, the first to the Science-Math Day at Kansas University, and the second to the Engineering Exposition also held at Lawrence. The meetings of the Science Club were enriched by speakers who enlightened the members on such subjects as radio activity, veterinary medicine, and crime lab work. Officers elected were: Jack Ostrode, president; Hershell Tkatch, vice-president; Sandra Canfield, secretary; and Joyce Gladfelter, treasurer.

Problem Solving Basis of Pleasure

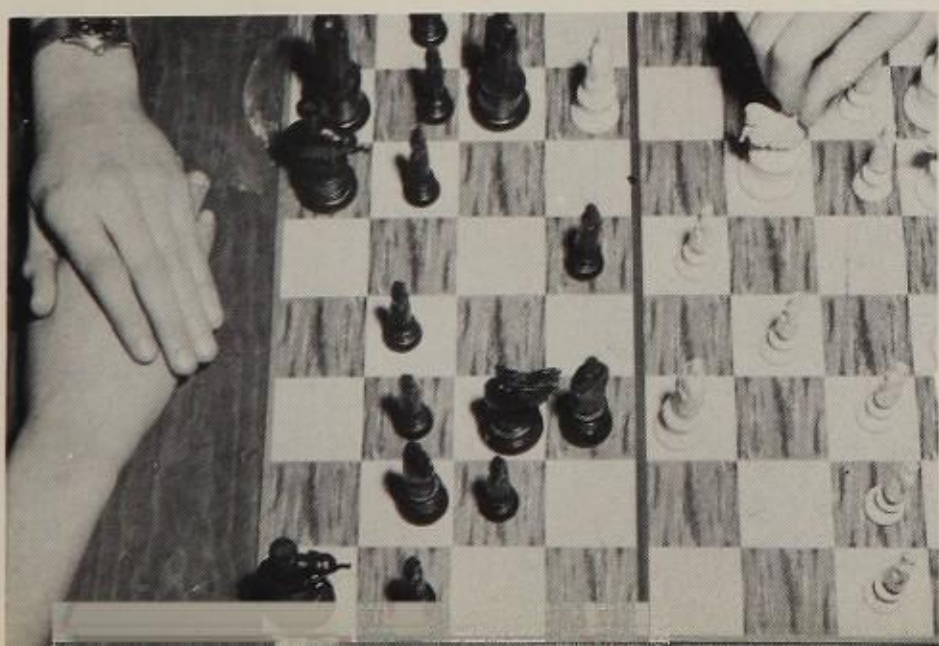

THE MATH CLUB, organized last year by the senior math classes, was again active this year. These advanced students with mathematical minds delved deeper into the complex field of higher mathematics. A Science and Math Day was attended at Kansas University in the fall by club members, and several projects were entered in the spring science fair.

Officers were: John McCabe, president; Steve Freidberg, vice-president; Joan Cheng, secretary-treasurer; and Hershell Tkatch, program chairman. Mrs. Marjorie French was sponsor.

A club newly organized was the chess club. Sponsored by Miss June Henderson, the purpose of this organization was to gain a playing knowledge of the game. A tournament was held during the meetings with all members participating. Tom Beisecker was organizer and president of the club.

DEWITT CLINTON, Topeka High's chapter of the Future Teachers of America, was open for membership to all students interested in the teaching profession. The projects and meetings were many and varied, including: sponsorship of informational booths at the Kansas State Teachers' Convention held in Topeka in the fall; the wrapping of gifts for patients of the State Hospital during the Christmas season; and acquainting the student teachers of THS with the club members by inviting them as guests to an informal coke party. A coffee was held at which Mr. Wendell Godwin, superintendent of schools, was honored guest, and a comical, but beneficial skit was presented to the organization by the teachers of the community.

Future Nurses Preview Medicine

LEARNING THE TRICKS of the medical trade this year were the members of the Future Nurses' Club. Doctors and nurses from many fields spoke to the group, thus urging them to continue their interest in this technical vocation.

The club entered a float in the Homecoming parade, sold Today's Health magazine, promoted the establishment of a future medical organization at Highland Park High School, and took a complete tour of KU Medical Center.

Climaxing the year was the impressive candle-light initiation service where deserving members were presented with their pins. Officers were: Earlene Knoles, president; Mary Knight, vice-president; Earlene Pierce, secretary-treasurer; Sandy Coke, corresponding secretary; and Miss Ruth Phillips, sponsor.

"Candy Strippers" took turns in the Hospitality Shop at Stormont-Vail — Joyce Taylor, Jo Ann Jellison, and Nancy Fritton.

The hospitality committee met to plan a spring event — June Robinson, Patsy Zirkle, Patty Daugherty, Joyce Taylor, and Bev Elliott.

Presenting Concepts of Homemaking

Sheila Crossley talks over interior decorating plans with Miss Finley after her nomination as a candidate for the "Betty Crocker Homemaker of Kansas" award.

TROHOMA, TOPEKA HIGH'S Future Homemaker Chapter, was open to any girl who was especially interested in home making. Through many unique programs, the girls learned of the varied and exciting opportunities being offered in the field of home economics. At the monthly meetings, guest speakers from such fields as dietetics, interior decorating, and journalism presented educational, creative, and profitable ideas.

The Trohoma girls were extremely busy during the Christmas season. They sponsored a food basket for a needy family and entertained their mothers at a party.

A special honor was bestowed on the chapter this year. Judy Gorrell, sophomore, was elected the district treasurer. Trojans were in charge of the registration at the state meeting held in Topeka in March. The officers, under the sponsorship of Miss Annette Weissbeck were: Janet Simpson, president; Barbara Brown, vice-president; Annette Fluke, treasurer; Doris Binger, secretary; and Sheila Crossley, program chairman.

Business Clubs Eye Secure Futures

STUDENTS IN THE VOCATIONAL office practice classes who worked and could not find time to take part in all regular extra-curricular activities were fortunate in having the Business Education Club, organized to meet the needs of these students. The group was sponsored by Mr. Louis Cagle and the officers were: Nancy Pock, president; Twilla Henderson, vice-president; Carol Sandbloom, secretary; Jean Swanson, treasurer; Violet Boley and Bonnie McMaster, social chairmen; and Sharon Selbach, reporter.

Promoting interest in retailing, the Retail Selling Club division of the Business Education Club was sponsored by Mr. Carl Nall. The club's officers were: Larry Boaz, president; Nancy Root, vice-president; Gayle Tosh, secretary; Betty Crenshaw, treasurer; Darlene Lambert and Dorothy Fountain, program chairmen.

A GROUP OF TROJANS that helped with important tasks at the many activities and social functions included the game cadets, varsity cadets, concession stand workers, and check stand workers. These students spent many hours performing the various tasks which were assigned to them.

The game cadets, under the direction of Mr. James Walker and Mr. Clarence Mullenix, sold and took tickets at Troy's home games, gave out programs, and showed spectators to seats.

varsity cadets under the sponsorship of Mr. Charles Shoyer. Also under his leadership were the concession stand workers. These students not only worked hard during the games, but many of them stayed after school on game days to prepare the popcorn, hot dogs, and coffee, thus proving themselves capable and dependable.

Working hard at the larger social functions such as the prom and the all-school party were the checkstand workers. These Trojans took charge of the wraps, receiving as payment the gratitude of those who used their services.

ALWAYS ON THE job at Troy's dramatic productions and musical presentations were the usher club and the play cadets. These diligent Trojans sold and took tickets, handed out programs, guarded the doors, and showed people to their seats in the auditorium. The girls wore traditional formal attire and the boys their dark suits. The usher club served at the three general sessions of the Kansas State Teachers' Association held in Topeka last fall.

Both organizations were chosen on the basis of their dependability and willingness to work together as a group. Miss Bernice Finley was the faculty sponsor of usher club, while play cadets' sponsor this year was Miss Frances Hutchison.

Promotion of Dramatics Their Goal

DRAMATICS PLAYED an important role in life at Topeka High. Therefore it was fitting that those who had made outstanding achievements in dramatic productions were given recognition by becoming members of the National Thespian Society. Whether performing on stage or working behind the scenes on properties or costumes, the Thespians were pledged to "meet all responsibility promptly, discharge all duties faithfully, and act in accordance with the rights and privileges of all concerned."

Officers were: Judy Gifford, president; David Heath, vice-president; and Sandra Canfield, secretary.

One of the largest clubs at Topeka High was Masque and Wig. Everyone who had worked on a play, the play production classes, and the usher club were members.

Judy Gifford, president of Thespians, will be remembered for her role of Laura in "The Glass Menagerie."

Masque and Wig held no regular meetings, but members were always busy working on plays and other productions.

Selfish Invalid Inspires Murder

ESSEX, ENGLAND WAS the setting for the Junior Class Play, "Night Must Fall" presented October 12, in Hoehner Auditorium under the direction of Miss Gertrude Wheeler and Miss Martha Herrick.

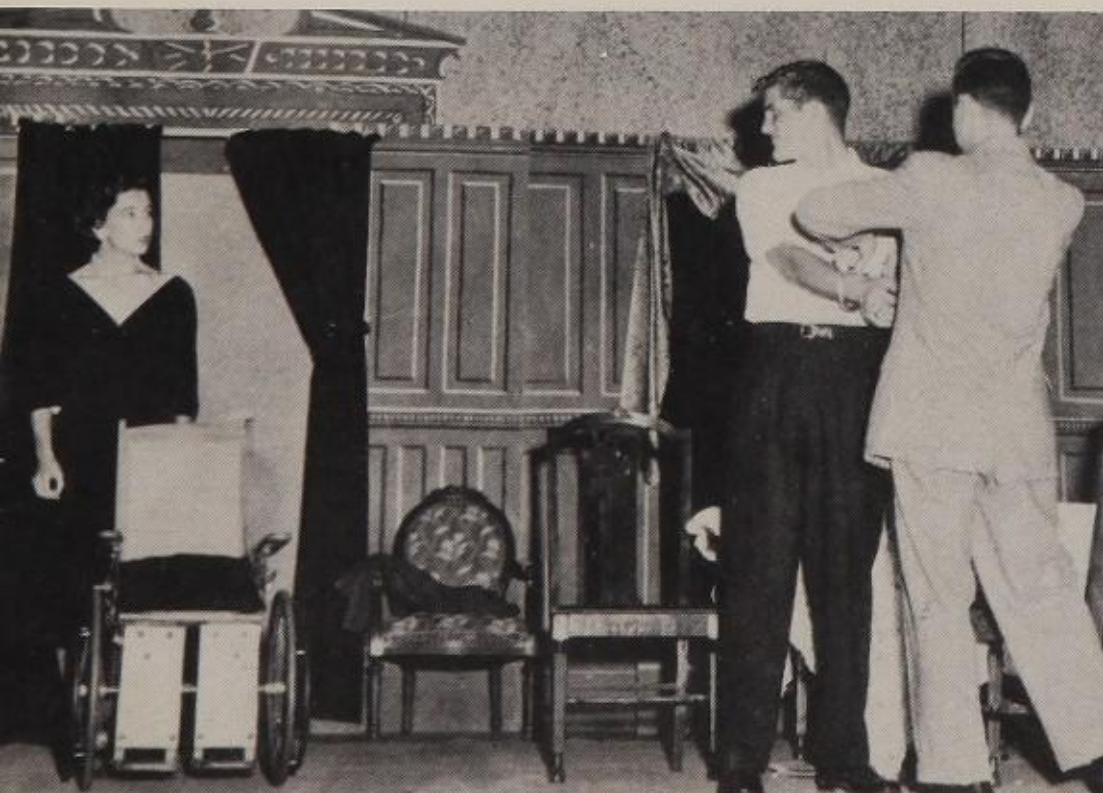

No one will forget Dan, the bellboy, who worked in a resort hotel near the home of Mrs. Bramson, rich and supposedly invalid; or how Dan charmed the elderly widow into adding him to her household servants. The murder of a guest at the hotel was traced to Dan by Olivia, Mrs. Bramson's unhappy niece, who chose to shield him. In the grip of his homicidal instincts, Dan also murdered Mrs. Bramson, giving the play a dramatic climax. The play closed as the police took Dan away to be punished for his crimes.

Retreat from Reality Builds Plot

MASQUE AND WIG'S presentation of "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams, was given November 17.

The characters who were woven into this realistic and intense drama were: Amanda, the mother who realized the hopelessness of ever getting a gentleman caller for her shy, crippled daughter; Laura, the daughter who was unable to face the realities of life and withdrew into the imaginary world of her glass figurines; Tom, the son who was torn between leading his own life, and loyalty to his sister and mother; Jim, the gentleman who called to give hope to Amanda, but who was already engaged.

Fairy Tale in Song

THE ANNUAL OPERETTA presented by the combined efforts of the instrumental and vocal departments was again a success this year. "Sweethearts," with words and music by Victor Herbert and Robert B. Smith, was presented on February 15 and 16, in Hoehner Auditorium. After many long and tedious hours of practice by the cast, choruses, dancers, orchestra, and instructors, the final stage was set and the curtain was raised on a fairy tale in song.

Taking place in Belgium, the story concerned a princess who had disappeared from her home in Naples when a mere infant. Found by Dame Paula who ran the Laundry of the White Geese, Sylvia, as the girl was called, was reared as one of her own daughters. Mikel Mikelovisky, who knew the true identity of Sylvia as the Princess of Zilania, came to the laundry in search of this heir to the throne, and it was here that the story began to unfold before the audience. More amusing and realistic characters were added to this charming tale, and the plot thickened as Sylvia and the heir presumptive, Franz fell in love. Complications arose as Liane, a milliner, was mistaken for the lost princess; but by the combined efforts of Dame Paula and Mikel, Sylvia's true identity was revealed as the missing Princess Jeanne. To the melody of "Sweethearts" the prince and princess declared their love for each other, and "they lived happily ever after."

'Your Show' Scores Fifth Success

"NO TWO SNOWFLAKES are alike," said Charlie Brown. Dennis Kelly, M.C., reminded the students of this many times as they viewed "Your Show" this year.

Variety was the keynote of this assembly held December 7. Of the thirty-four acts that tried out, twelve outstanding ones were chosen. Among these were "Puppets" by Pat Kelly, songs by Lilly Hayes, Bev Elliott, Dave Sundquist, Karen Deeter, Barbie Howard, and Janice Osburn, "Happy Feet," a tap dance by Carolyn Thomas, Elaine Williams, and Bonnie Phelps, a Spanish dance by Tere Aragonés, a piano solo by Robert Thomas, and an organ solo, "Brazil," by John Jackson.

Many long hours of practice went into preparing the 1956 "Your Show," the fifth presentation of this event given on the Trojan stage. The committee in charge included Brock Spencer, Nadine Harrison, Barry Bray, and Judy Coffman, with Mrs. Esther Kingman and Miss Phyllis Aley as sponsors.

Pat Kelly's initial stage performance was a "howling success."

Assemblies Enlighten All Students

A VARIETY of programs brought to Topeka High students a welcome change from the everyday class routine in the form of assemblies. Both educational and entertaining, these programs ranged from serious lectures to chorus line dancing and rock 'n roll.

The traditional assemblies such as Homecoming, Your Show, A. F. S. Tag Day, Christmas, Easter, and other programs by the music department were exceptionally well received. Clever skits offered a variety to the pep assemblies at which the band provided enthusiastic music.

Many Friday midmornings found the 1800 Trojans in the auditorium listening to interesting presentations on the K. U. lecture series. These included programs on liquid air, time-lapse photography, and one by a Polish-American tenor. An especially interesting assembly was presented by a hypnotist, and there were several fashion shows for girls only and a boys' assembly by Fisher Body Company.

'Nutcracker Suite' Inspires

The long awaited moment—Dick Mills crowns Queen Sandra as King Jeb and Mimi Davis, crown bearer, look on.

AT A PARTY AT her house on Christmas Eve, little Marie received an array of gifts. Among them was a wooden nutcracker which fascinated Marie more than her doll and other toys. That night, when everyone was in bed, Marie crept downstairs to look after her beloved nutcracker. When she fell asleep on the couch, wonderful things began to happen. The Christmas tree again blazed with lights, and her doll, clown, and toy soldiers came to life and danced. Out of the wall came mice who engaged the soldiers in battle. Just as the mouse king had the nutcracker at his mercy, Marie threw a well-aimed slipper, and the mouse king fell. The nutcracker then changed to a handsome prince and offered to reward Marie for her deed by taking her to the "Land of the Sugar Plum Fairy." In this enchanted kingdom where there were lollipop trees, giant-sized gumdrops, candy canes, and ribbon candy, Marie was entertained by the Sugar Plum Fairy and her subjects. Thus unfolded the "Nutteracker Suite".

Climaxing the evening was the royal coronation of the 1956 All School Party. Every Trojan waited eagerly as Dick Mills, vice president of Student Congress, introduced the attendants, Sue Coleman, Ernie Longstaff, Beverly Elliott, Ed Alberg, Marcia Brown, Steve Swan, Nadine Harrison, John Dawson, Earlene Knoles, and Bob Ebendorf. Then the peak of the evening arrived as down the center aisle came Queen Sandra Hopkins on the arm of King Jeb Barham as the organ played the appropriate melody "Sweethearts".

A dance was held immediately following the program in the school cafeteria. Elaborate blue and silver decorations followed the theme of the program, and music was furnished by Buddy Brown's Band.

Troy's Gridmen Blemish Record;

Head Coach Bodenhause directs the Trojan attack from the sidelines.

HEAD COACH Otto Bodenhause guided the 1956 Topeka High football team to an almost repeat performance of the previous year's record. The Trojans were defeated only once in eight starts, this being to the Lawrence Lions who went on to capture the State Prep Championship. For the second straight year the pigskin squad won an undisputed title over the Sunflower League teams of Shawnee Mission, Wyandotte, and Washington Rural. The four-team league was inaugurated last year.

Topeka's first opponent was Highland Park and although the Trojans exhibited much early season greenness, they defeated the Scotties 9-0. The Topeka squad garnered a safety in the latter portion of the first period when the Scot center made a bad pass which was gathered in by John Petterson, an alert lineman, in the end zone. Ernie Longstaff scored for the Trojans in the second quarter after a 28-yard kickoff return by Bob Kaul. The only threat by the Scotties was a sustained drive to the Trojan 14-yard line where it was abruptly halted by the Bodenhause men.

Lose to State Champion Lawrence

The next Trojan encounter was with the oppressive Lawrence team. The Lions, seeking revenge from their 13-12 defeat of last year, found it by holding the Topeka squad to only 88 rushing yards on the ground while they scored twice in the second quarter and again in the third. Bob Kaul and Willie Coleman were the Trojan scorers, with Bob's opening kickoff return of 93 yards to pay dirt being the most impressive play of the game.

After this tromping by the Lions, the Trojans thrilled a Wichita crowd by barely edging a touchdown in the final 45 seconds of the game. Troy was behind 6-7 in the concluding seconds when Willie Coleman ran to the Blue Aces' 2-yard line where he was tackled. Ernie Longstaff then blasted over for the touchdown. The conversion was made, and the Black and Gold had the necessary lead, winning the game 13-7. Coleman was the big ground gainer, driving 131 yards, setting up the first touchdown by a 53-yard carry. The Trojans rushed 239 yards as compared with 88 in the game with Lawrence.

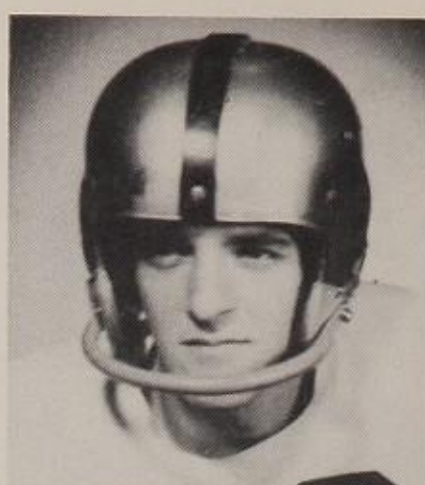

Troy's co-captains, Ed Alberg and Bob Ebendorf, lead the Trojan squad onto the field through an aisle of cheering pepsters.

Willie Coleman was the Trojan team's regular fullback and top ground gainer.

Mel Lewis, senior starter at the halfback spot, was the top kicker of extra points.

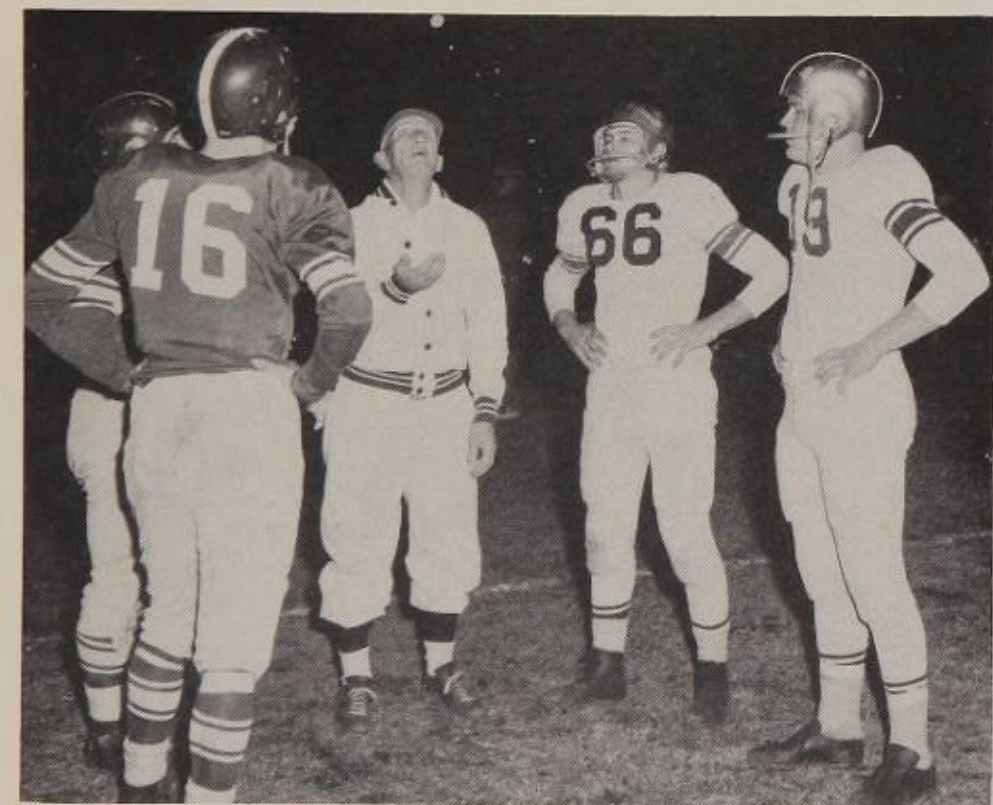

Ernie Longstaff, Troy's speedy halfback, was a prominent scorer and pass receiver.

Joe Kelly, end, distinguished himself by gaining a Sunflower League berth.

Bob Kaul (11) tackles a speedy Wichita ball carrier as teammate Joe Kelly comes in on the assist.

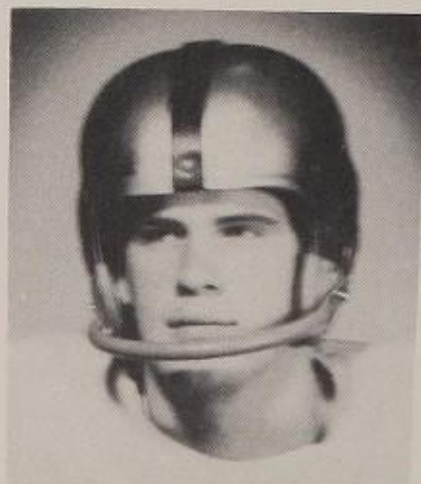

Co-captains Bob Ebendorf and Ed Alberg await the decision of the tossed coin at the Washington Rural game.

Passing, Rushing

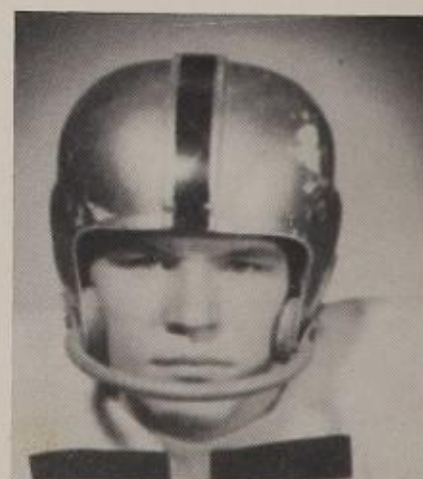

THE FOURTH encounter for the Bodenhause squad was with the Salina Mustangs before a Homecoming crowd. The Mustangs were completely overwhelmed by the Trojan offensive and were behind 20-0 at the end of the first half. Trojan reserves scored twice in the third quarter to give head-coach Otto Bodenhause his 16th win over 7 losses by a 33-6 margin.

The Trojans then journeyed to Shawnee Mission and although they competed before the Indians' Homecoming crowd, the Topeka squad defeated them 20-7. This was the Black and Gold's first victory in the Sunflower League race.

The Wyandotte Bulldogs came to Troy with the intention of evening the score in the League race, but an alert Trojan defense stopped them cold. The Bulldogs were held to only 76 yards on the ground, but gained 116 yards in the air in eleven successful passes. On the other hand, the Topeka gridmen rushed 180 yards on the ground and passed for only 37 yards. This was Topeka High's second consecutive Sunflower League victory.

Bob Ebendorf, co-captain and guard, led the defensive attack and left forward wall.

Ed Alberg, a co-captain and quarterback, nabbed the Trojan's offensive title.

Joe Copp, a defensive end, was top pass receiver, and a speedy interference man.

Harry Jolley, a rugged end man, won a berth on the Sunflower League team.

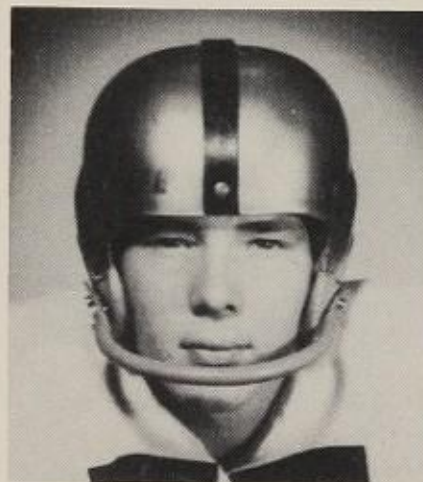

Dominate Play

Washington Rural's defense could not match the spirited offensive tactics of fullback Willie Coleman as he galloped 73 yards for a first period touchdown, 33 yards to score in the second quarter, and finally a 53-yard dash into the end zone in the third period. This spirited Trojan bullied his way through the Wildcat defense for 182 yards in seven attempts to lead the Topeka squad to their second consecutive Sunflower League championship. The Wildcats scored late in the fourth quarter, making the final score 20-7.

The final game for the '56 Bodenhausemen was with Ward. Although playing this last game away from home, the undaunted Trojans tromped the Cyclones 40-0, clearing the benches the second half. After playing these reserves for a full quarter, coach Bodenhause sent his first eleven back into the game. On their opening play, they flattened the Ward defense, allowing quarterback Ed Alberg to run 93 yards for a touchdown. This was the husky senior's most impressive run in three years of varsity ball for the Trojans.

Willie Coleman drives hard into a Salina tackler after a short gain.

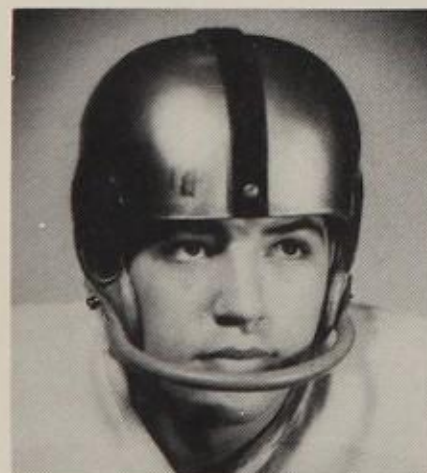

Larry Polter, tackle, was one of the Trojan's top defensive threats.

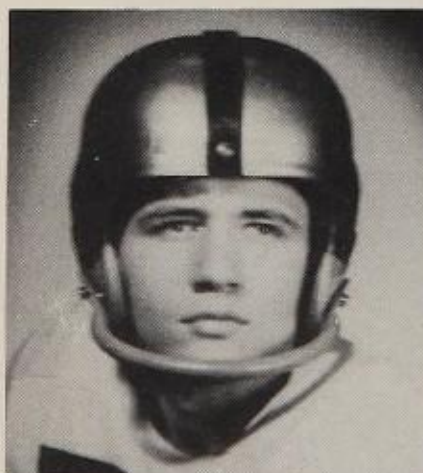

Larry Barngrover who made all-conference was a top guard.

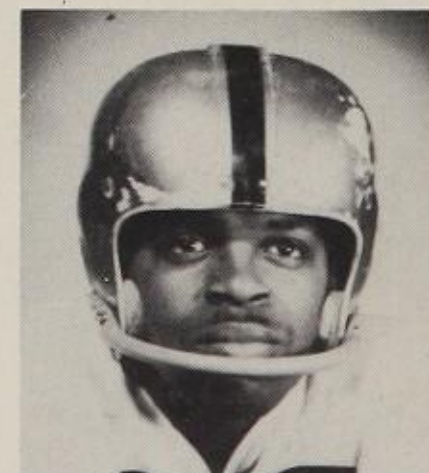

Bob Wanamaker, tackle, won places on all-conference and coveted All-State teams.

John Petterson, tackle, has been a stalwart in the line for two years.

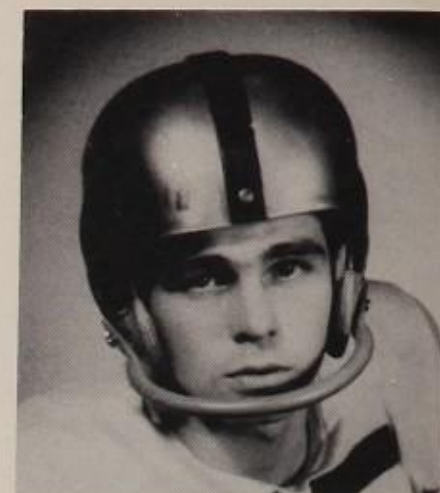

Ken Sturm, rugged center, proved a constant threat to Troy's opponents.

Lathan Johnson, defensive tackle, constantly helped in major gains.

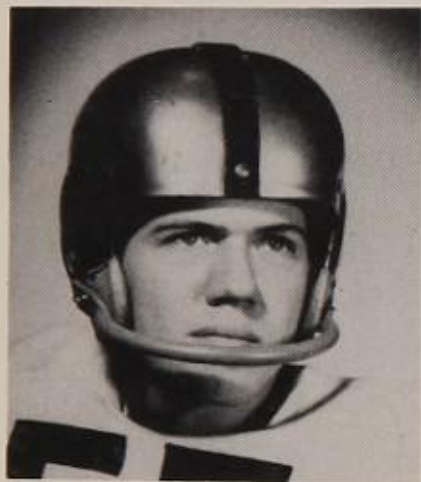

Alvin Williams, shifty halfback, won his first monogram this year.

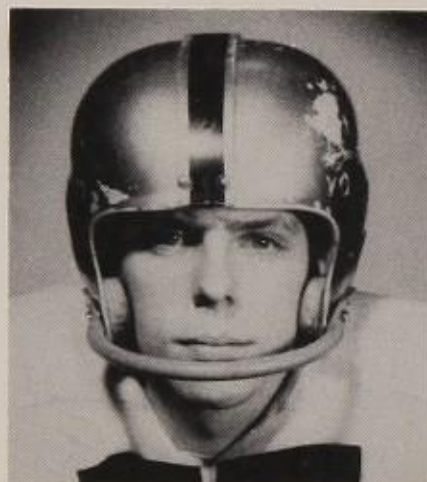

Bob Kaul, two-year veteran at quarterback, saw considerable action.

Mel Lewis evades a Salina tackler while circling around right end. This play helped boost the Homecoming victory.

Troy Dominates Sunflower League

John Wood, husky center, was a transfer from Florida high school football.

THE 1956 Bodenhausemen ranked superbly in the seasonal Sunflower League choices. The head coaches met and picked the boys they felt were the most qualified to fill the respective positions on the Sunflower team.

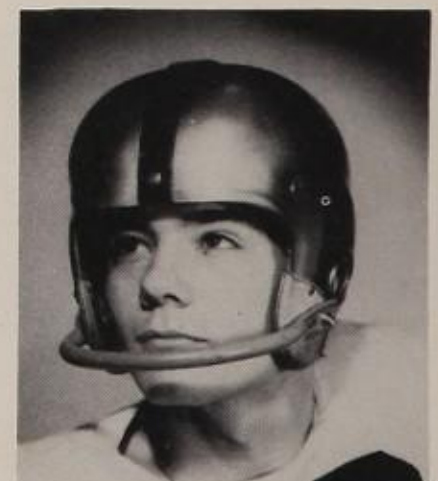

Three Trojans were unanimously elected to the mythical squad — fullback Willie Coleman, tackle Bob Wanamaker, and guard Larry Barngrover. Troy's fine quarterback Ed Alberg, and ends Joe Kelly and Harry Jolley were also honored. Bob Ebendorf, co-captain, missed a berth on the league team by just one vote. Shawnee Mission placed four boys on the Sunflower team, while Wyandotte's halfback was their only representative. The only all-state representative from Troy's gridmen was Bob Wanamaker. Bob proved himself to be an essential part of the Topeka line.

Bob Wanamaker and John Petterson demonstrate their blocking in an early season practice.

Mike Blaisdell, a rugged tackle, will be a returning letterman next year.

David Roe, a threat at defensive end, will be a welcome returnee next season.

Paul Chapman, a new-comer to the line, played an impressive initial season.

John Escobar was a light but aggressive line member winning his first letter.

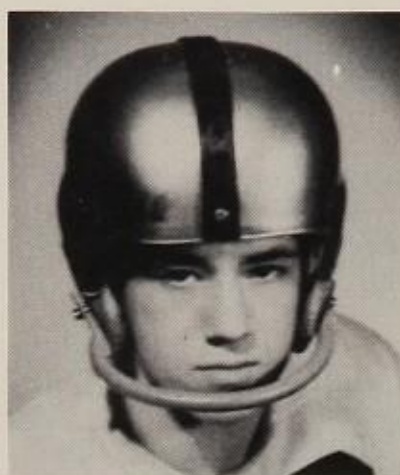

Ken Perry, junior letterman, played an impressive season at half-back.

All-conference quarterback Ed Alberg skirts around right end, climaxing a touchdown drive.

for Second Year

THE TROJAN offense piled up 1,931 yards on the ground throughout the year, while holding their opponents to 960 yards. Aerial warfare by the Trojans was good for an additional 425 yards, with Ed Alberg credited with 384 yards. Leading the pass receivers was Joe Copp with eight catches netting 189 yards. The men of Troy were forced to punt 25 times, with Gene Bailey, Ed Alberg, and Jon Yeager kicking. Their overall average was 32.8 yards, with Alberg punting 19 times for an individual percentage of 30.4.

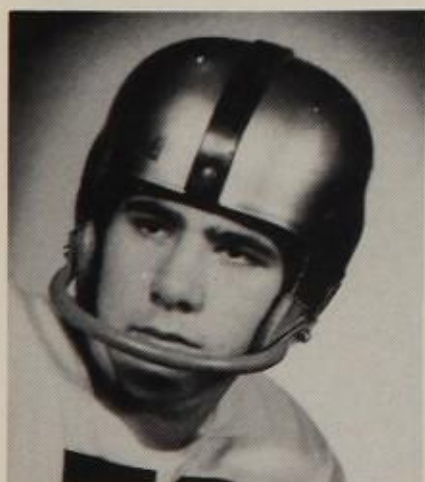

Leading the ground gainers for Troy was Willie Coleman. This hard hitting three year letterman ran for 746 yards for an average of 6.4 yards per carry. Quarterback Ed Alberg was next with 457 yards on the ground, and together with his 384 yards in the air, this made him the Trojans' leading offensive player.

Larry Murray gave the Trojans depth and speed at the halfback position.

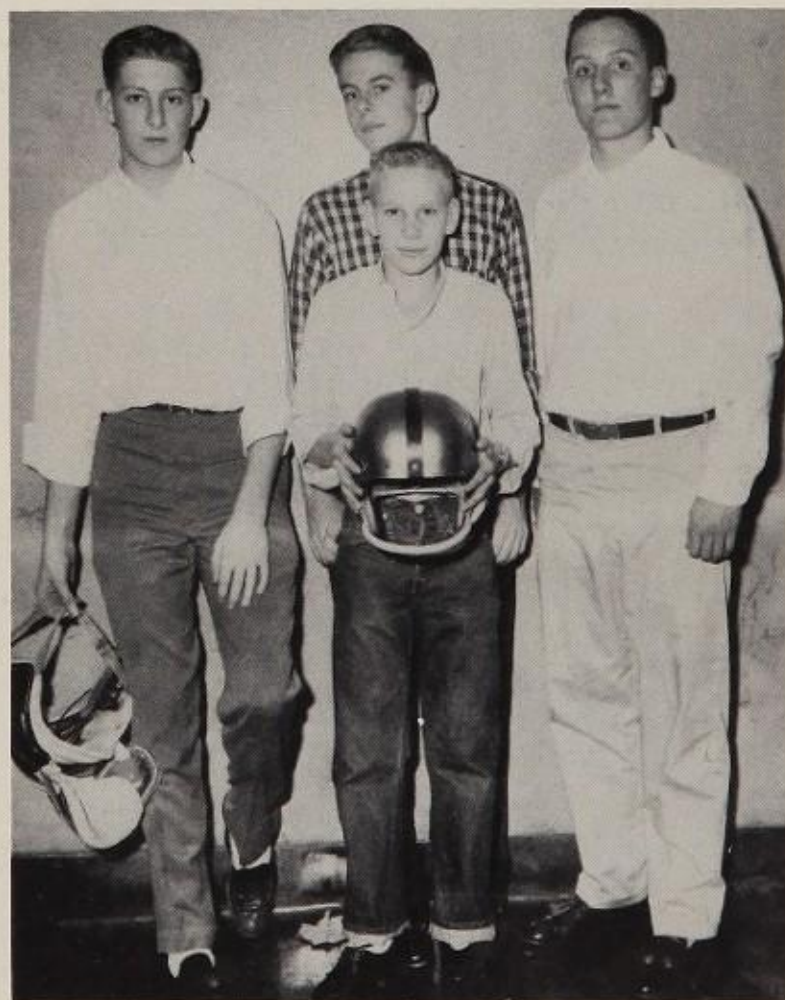

Don Rumsey, senior center, saw considerable action during the season.

Ron Rowland showed promise of becoming a standout linesman.

Jim Avery, a late season surprise, was a top defensive man.

Football managers, Gary Jenkins, Larry Rugles, Stuart Leonhart, and Barry Wilkes carried a heavy load for both team and coaches.

Rules, schedules, equipment needs, and the line-up for next week's game are discussed by coaches Reid, Alberg, Dean, Bodenhause, Laney, and Davenport.

B's Post 5-1 Record;

CHET LANEY COACHED his B-team football squad to an impressive five and one season, being defeated only by the Lawrence Lions, 7-0. Although new to Topeka High this year, Laney guided his grid team to overwhelming victories over the Sunflower League teams, Highland Park and Hayden. Under the leadership of quarterback Jon Yeager, the B-Team established themselves as a fast and rough team. Yeager passed to ends David Roe and Gary Smith throughout the season for long gains.

Shawnee Mission, usually a formidable opponent, was downed easily 32-6, to be Laney's first Sunflower victory. Wyandotte fell, 7-0, and finally Washington Rural was defeated 28-7, climaxing the season. The B-team hosted teams only twice, while being on the road four times.

For once the referees agree on a Trojan tally.

Sophomores Come Through Unbeaten

THE 1956 SOPHOMORE football team boasted an unbeaten record this year, being downed only by Chet Laney's B-team squad. Coached by Chet Davenport, the sophomores defeated six teams, including the Lawrence Lions, a victory unknown to Troy's other grid teams this year. Shawnee Mission was the only Sunflower League team the Davenport squad played. Although the Indians played on their home field, they crumbled the strength exhibited by the sophomores. Hayden and Seaman, both annual encounters for the sophomores, were easily defeated. Two of the sophomore mainstays exhibited such talent that they were transferred to the Trojan varsity squad later in the year. They were Larry Murray and Ken Perry, halfbacks.

Coronation Highlights Festivities

TROY'S HOMECOMING was held in October. This year the bonfire and pep rally were held at Chandler, the football practice field.

Friday's festivities included the afternoon assembly where queen candidates chosen by the football team were introduced, and Ralph Seger, a former Trojan, entertained the student body. A parade followed, led by the band and made up of the pep clubs, cars carrying the royalty, and fifteen colorful floats built by various clubs and classes. This was a record number of floats, making the judges' selection difficult. The Youth for Christ and Boys' Pep Clubs tied for first, with the vocal department taking third.

At the game, the identity of the queen was revealed during the climaxing half-time ceremonies. Escorted to the royal throne by Brock Spencer, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Queen Joyce was crowned by Mr. M. J. Whitson, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, who presented her with a bouquet of mums as the band serenaded her. Steve Swan and Dick Mills, president and vice-president of the Student Congress, escorted attendants Kathryn Hayes and Carol Orr.

At the traditional dance held after the game, the queen and her attendants ruled, each being presented with a football autographed by the entire team. The credit for this successful Homecoming should go to the Representative Council which sponsored the event, and to their committee chairmen.

Liberace and Gene Krupa team up in the persons of Phil Frankenberger and Dan Ralston for the Homecoming assembly.

Alma Mater

A song for the land where the sunflowers bloom;
Hail to our city so fair;
And three times three with a Sis! Boom! Bah!
For the high school whose colors we wear.
For we are the students of the THS
Sing we the tribute that our hearts confess,
Ever we glory in thy proud success,
Hail to the Black and Gold forever.

ALWAYS READY to lead the enthusiastic crowds, our cheerleaders this year begged for school spirit and got it. Full of energy, they combined forces with the pep clubs to show the teams that the student body was always behind them, no matter what the score.

Elected by our Student Congress and the pep clubs, the A-team in the spring, the B-team in the fall, the cheerleaders were ambassadors of good-will from THS, and represented our school properly at all times, at home and away.

A cheerleader clinic was held at Topeka High this year, with 450 cheerleaders from this part of the state attending. Instructed by L. H. Herkimer, "Mr. Cheerleader, himself," our girls obtained many new ideas and yells which they shared with the student body at games and in the various pep assemblies.

Sponsored by Miss Pat Key and Mrs. Betty Smith, the cheerleaders spent many early mornings in practice and deserved sincere thanks for their leadership. Reward came in the form of new skirts, sweaters and emblems, paid for by the Girls' Pep Club.

Pep Song

Come on and give three cheers for old Topeka High
One- Two- Three, Rah! Rah! Rah!
Show the foe that they cannot deny Victory
Team! Team!
Let every Trojan son know that we're behind the gun
Till the battle is won.
And if we all pitch in, another victory we'll win
For Topeka High!

'Satisfied' — Chant Troy's Pepsters

THE REGULAR Pep Club was composed of about 400 Trojan girls, each with the ultimate goal of becoming a member of Honor Pep. Clad in black skirts and emblemed sweaters, they attended all games, forming a dark background around the white T-shaped formation of Honor Pep. The officers were: Barbie Howard, president; Loretta Lovell, vice-president; and Joyce Wright, secretary-treasurer.

Honor Pep was composed of seventy-seven girls who had done outstanding work in Regular Pep. Dressed in black skirts, white sweaters and blouses, they formed a "T" in the cheering section. Officers were: Judy Tyler, president; and Virginia Smith, vice-president. The officers of the joint organizations were: Joyce Gladfelter, president; and Beverly Elliott, vice-president.

Receiving their charter this year was the Boys' Pep Club. Garbed in white shirts, dark trousers, and black ivy-league caps, these ambitious boys turned out in full force at the games. Officers were: Steve Swan, president; Chuck Hotchkiss, vice-president; Con Poirier, secretary; Richard Mistler, treasurer; and Charles Buffon, attendance clerk.

Combining forces this year, the clubs, sponsored by Miss Pat Key, Mrs. Betty Smith, and hardworking Mr. Otto Bodenhausen, entered floats in the Homecoming parade, and sponsored a Halloween varsity in the school cafeteria.

T-CLUB OFFICERS. Dan Ralston, Rog Burgess, Bob Wanamaker, and Ed Saylor.

LETTERING IN any of the sports at Topeka High made boys eligible to belong to the T-Club. This organization was very active throughout this year, undertaking and successfully completing many projects, and carrying on interesting programs during the club's numerous meetings.

A special feature of the T-Club this year was the selling of the Trojan pins which proved very popular with the student body and helped promote school spirit. Instead of their usual hayrack ride, the boys were hosts at a sandbar party. As a service project, the club adopted a needy family at Christmas time.

T-Club initiation was a much discussed topic around Troy. After becoming eligible by earning a letter, the boys received the traditional paddling from the boys already in the club.

Officers were: Dan Ralston, president; Rog Burgess, vice president; Ed Saylor, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Wanamaker, sergeant at arms. Faculty sponsor was Mr. D. L. Erwin.

Wanamaker Takes Second Crown

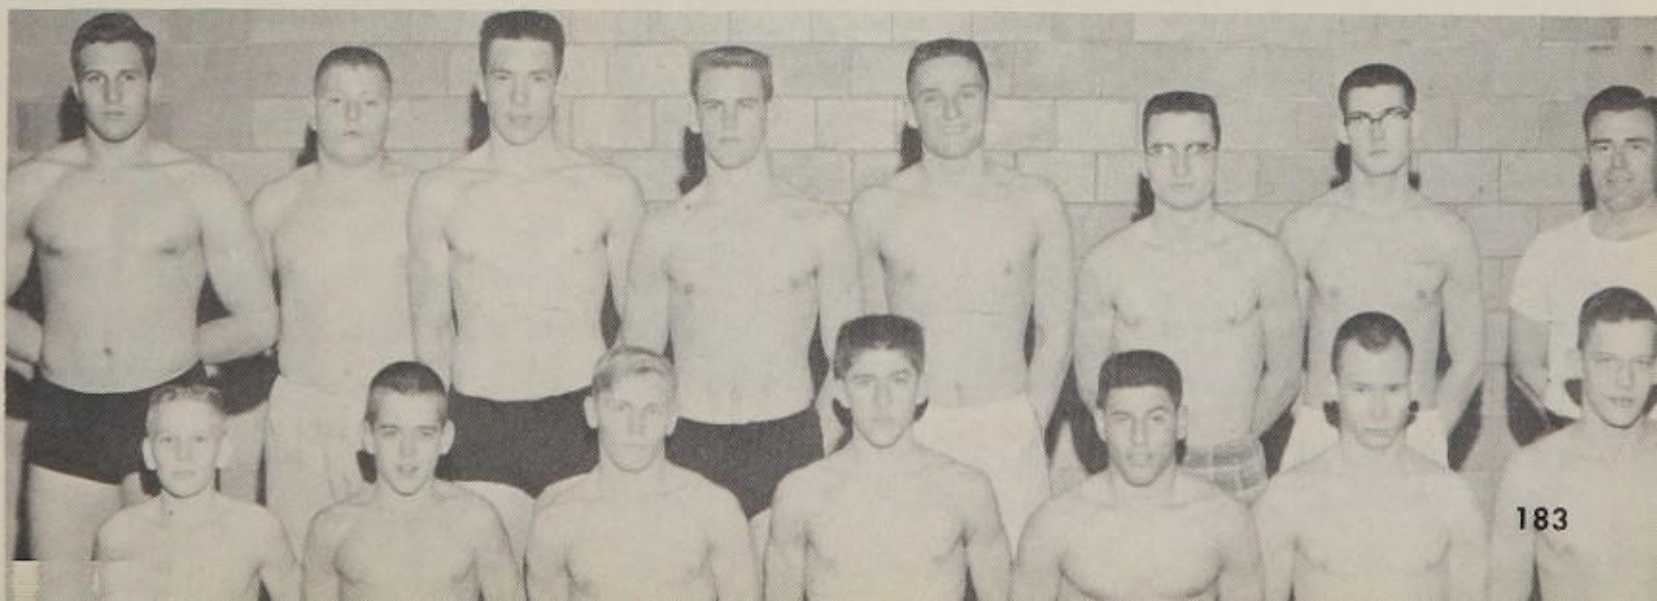

THE TROJAN MATMEN posted an impressive 6-3 record for the 1957 wrestling season. Directed by coach Floyd Holcomb, the grapplers hosted five of the scheduled nine meets.

This year the matmen were well represented in the heavyweight divisions following fine experience gained last year by state champion Bob Wanamaker. Bob and Larry Polter, wrestling at 178 pounds, both posted undefeated records for the season. However, the hefty Wanamaker suffered an eye injury in the match with Francis Darter from Douglas, and was forced to concede in the final accounting. Although the injury required eight stitches to close, Bob bounced back to decision Darter at the Regionals and gain the right to defend his 1956 heavyweight crown.

Hard fighting Larry Polter battled his way to the second place berth at the Regionals. Coach Holcomb held great hope for top records for both of his heavyweights at the State meet where Bob Ebendorf and Jon Crawford completed Troy's representation. Ebendorf, weighing 157 pounds, was defeated only three times in the nine matches he entered.

The State Wrestling Meet at Hoxie, in late February, was a complete success as far as Wanamaker was concerned. Bob climaxed two years of undefeated wrestling by again decisioning Francis Darter in a hair-raising match by the skimpy margin of 1-0. Ebendorf battled his way into fourth place, but could go no farther, and was Troy's only other finisher at the 1957 State meet where as a team they settled for tenth place.

Deanmen Capture Regional Crown;

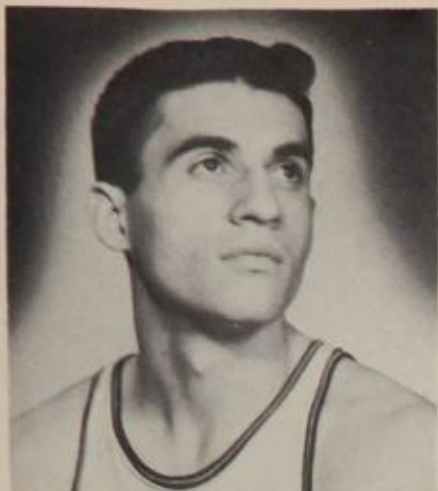

Larry Mather and Chuck Hotchkiss leap high off the boards contending for a rebound with a Washington player.

TOPEKA HIGH SCHOOL'S 1957 basketball team under the guidance of Coach Jack Dean posted an impressive season's record, winning 14 of their 21 games. The Deanmen opened early in December with a twin-bill win, barely edging the Lawrence Lions 56-47, and then tearing the Salina Mustangs by a margin of 64-31. The Trojan round-ballers then defeated Parsons, 57-52.

Topeka's first Sunflower League opponent was Wyandotte. The wiry Bulldogs downed the Trojans in a close contest, 50-47, leaving the Deanmen with their first defeat of the season and reducing their chance for the Sunflower pennant. However, they bounced back to defeat Manhattan, Emporia, and Highland's Scotties, winning their second consecutive Highland Park Holiday Tournament title.

Meeting their rivals down the Kaw, Shawnee Mission, Troy lost a close contest to the Indians, 61-60. The cagers then won their next three games, downing Ottawa, Lawrence, and Highland Park, in that order. Somewhat over-confident, the Deanmen were easily trimmed by Wyandotte, 61-52, knocking them completely from the Sunflower pennant race.

Advance to Nail Third in State Play

After this even showing in the last few games, the Deanmen were rated poorly for the Regionals at Lawrence. However, they defeated Atchison in their opening round, and went on to the championship game with Lawrence. The game was an even exchange until the end of the fourth quarter when the Trojans boomed into a six-point lead that was retained to the final gun, sending them to Wichita for the State Tournament.

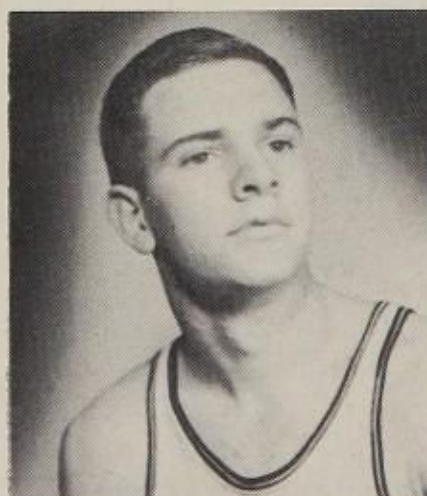

Anchored by seniors Ed Alberg and Joe Redmond, the Trojan squad won a close battle over Wichita East in the opening round of AA play, 72-71. Junior Owen Quick won the game with four seconds remaining to put the Trojans in the lead, and vaulted them into the semi-final round. There the Deanmen met a decisive defeat at the hands of Rosedale from Kansas City, 53-33, and for the first time this season, the Trojans were out-rebounded. Topeka then met Parsons in the play-off for third place, and Redmond again led the scoring with 28 points. Although Coach Dean admitted their lack of defense, his roundballers squeaked past the Parsons team 62-57 and into a third place berth.

B's, Sophs Chalk Up Fine Records

UNDER THE direction of Wiley Alberg, the Trojan B-team posted a remarkable 12-4 record. Throughout the season, the cagemen displayed the fine coaching and technique of a varsity squad. The B's suffered two defeats at the hands of the Shawnee Mission Indians. Their other two losses went to Ottawa and Wyandotte; however, they reversed the scores later in the season. They had little trouble in besting their other opponents. Several members of the team showed great promise throughout the season, and will be a strong factor in the success of next year's varsity squad.

CHET DAVENPORT'S spohomore roundballers paced themselves to a hard-hitting season, winning 11 of their 13 games. The sophomore cagers played six of the city's junior high teams and emerged with only one loss in these starts, this being to Curtis. They met the Hayden underclassmen three times, and defeated them in two of three contests. To round out the schedule, the sophomores played Washburn Rural and Berryton, posting victories in both games. The Davenport squad was regarded as a fine club, and their good ball-handling and teamwork was praised highly.

"TO THE STARS" was the theme of the Queen of Courts festivities this year, sponsored by Representative Council. The assembly, held on February 22, was staged at "Heartburn Hotel" where THS students were marooned by a transportation failure. The queen candidates were introduced, arousing the curiosity of the student body as to who would reign over the event.

In the midst of a star formed by Honor Pep and Representative Council girls, Leslie Roach, escorted by Brock Spencer, was crowned by Lieutenant Governor Joseph Henkle. Attendants JoAnne Smith and Nancy Merriman were escorted by Steve Swan and Dick Mills.

A varsity followed the game at which the queen and her attendants were presented autographed basketballs, and amidst glittering silver and blue stars, were serenaded.

Ralston Anchors Trojan Harriers

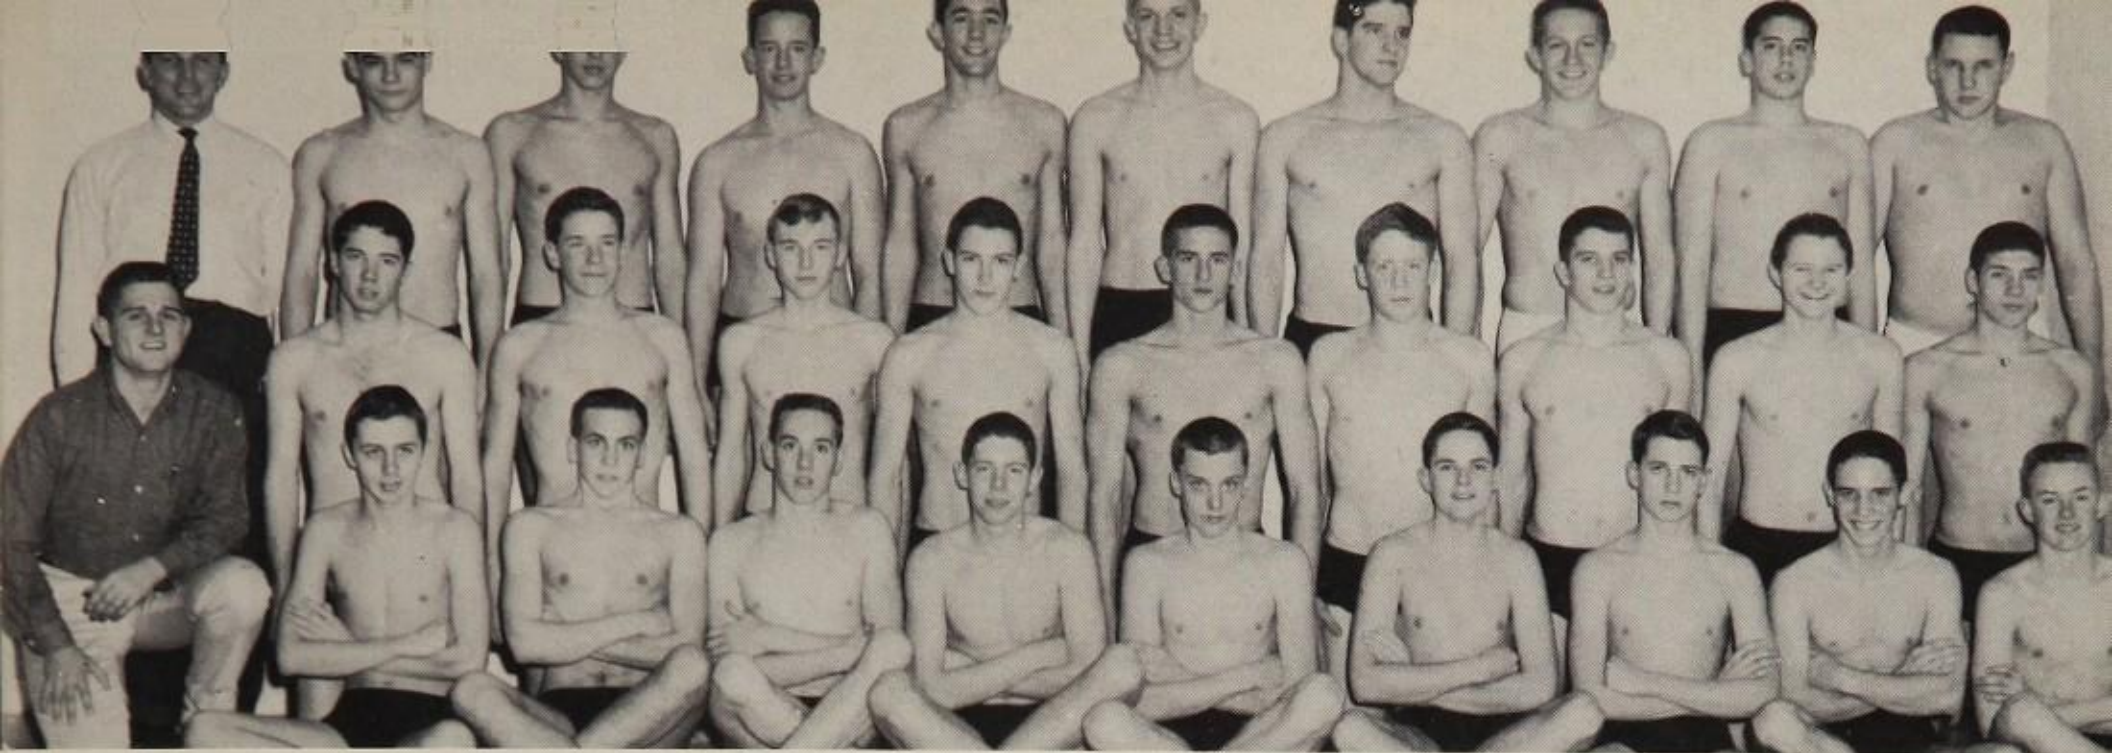

Two year team captain, Dan Ralston.

THE 1956 CROSS country track team under "Heavy" Erwin's guidance, exhibited much inexperience, although running on their home course three of seven races throughout the year. The harriers began the season with a victory over the Highland Park distance men, but descended steadily, placing two seconds, two thirds, and two fifths, the final race eliminating them from the First Annual State Cross Country Meet held November 17, at the Trojan home course, Shawnee Country Club.

Senior Dan Ralston anchored the distance squad with four firsts, two seconds, and one third, losing only to Haskell's state champion, Billy Mills, and Ray Wilson. Ralston broke two course records and tied one, climaxing his three years of cross country competition by being Troy's only representative at the state meet.

The Sunflower League meet was won easily by Shawnee Mission. Teamwise, the Trojans made their best showing of the year, paced by Ralston who set a new course record of 9:19 to better his own mark of 9:25. J. B. Finger placed in the top ten, with Errol Moore and Bob Cordill turning in respectable times. Sophomore Dick Johnson was second on the squad by the end of the season.

At the state meet, Mills, Haskell distance ace, climaxed an undefeated year by covering the revised two mile course in 10:15, followed by Wilson, his teammate, Bob Grossek of Olathe, and Troy's Dan Ralston.

Determination and Spirit Prevail

BEHIND THEIR NEW coach, Chet Laney, the Trojan finmen, plagued by inconsistencies, dropped all but two of their meets. Though their win-lose column read the same as the previous year, the morale and desire of the tankmen far out-weighed their poor record.

The Trojans won their first contest of the new season by besting Wentworth Military Academy 56-11. After losing a close decision to Wyandotte in Washburn University's pool, Wichita North sunk the Trojans by a score of 47-31. With a 1-2 record, Topeka traveled to Wichita West only to have their desires cut short once again. This hard luck followed the frogmen the remainder of the season, with the exception of another win over Wentworth. Under the enthusiastic guidance of Coach Laney and co-captains John Stumbo and Steve Fink, the boys beat several records.

With a cluck cluck and a clickety-clack, our last year at Troy has seemed to rush along all too fast. Everywhere I turn, someone says, "I can't believe it."

The school year 1956-'57 began officially with the music of the chimes echoing through the halls of Troy. The atmosphere created by the chimes was missed last year while they were being repaired.

Elections took over the first weeks of school, as Trojans burned the midnight oil, working on campaigns. Election clerk Judy Tyler and commissioner John Dawson innovated the Election Rally which enabled students to become acquainted with the candidates before elections.

"Floats first, studies last," was the keynote of the week preceding homecoming. Fifteen floats were entered in the parade, more competition than ever. The Girls' Pep Club would like to take this opportunity to thank Ed Alberg, Bob Wanamaker, and Larry Barngrover for helping us with our float. Since the Boys' Pep Club float captured first, I guess their help was to no avail.

I didn't realize there were so many artists at THS until they used the Lawrence water tower for a canvas last fall.

DEPENDABLE TRANSPORTATION

Every day of the school year, hundreds of students appreciate the value of reliable bus transportation, to and from school.

Public transit is the lifeline in practically all communities continuation of growth and progress. One bus can carry as many people as thirty private automobiles.

When you ride the bus, you help your city to solve traffic congestion problems.

IT'S TIME TO THINK ABOUT

WASHBURN UNIVERSITY OF TOPEKA

Washburn University is Topeka's own! For ninety-two years students have proudly gone from Washburn prepared in many fields of endeavor. Today, more than ever before, trained leadership is needed in all walks of life.

You will find college life at Washburn rich and rewarding. With all the advantages of a metropolitan university, Washburn also retains the individual attention available only in smaller schools.

On the Washburn campus is a well-rounded social life and the many extra-curricular activities which help guide you towards the goal you seek.

When you think of college, think of Washburn! You will meet many of your high school friends when you enroll at Washburn. Make Washburn University of Topeka your choice when you leave the "Halls of Troy".

Topeka High had its share of thrilling games during the football and basketball seasons. Football fans witnessed a heart-stopping game when our football squad fought their way to victory over Wichita East 13-7. With just 45 seconds left in the game, Ernie Longstaff went over the goal line for a touchdown which brought Troy from behind to win. In another thriller, Topeka High's cagemen dumped Lawrence in an overtime period to gain a berth in the state basketball tourney.

Senior debaters Becky Grantham, Brock Spencer, Jim Pantle, and Charles Buffon captured the state debate trophy — Troy's fifth in the past six years.

The cheerleaders really had the "yoke" on the boys. Assembly after assembly, the boys yelled for Oskiwahwah. Then, at the last pep assembly of the year, the cheerleaders finally did the cheer . . . wearing multi-colored bloomers.

Some misled Trojans thought that Honor T points were given for "fire-building." Too bad, scouts, no points for wastebasket fires this year.

Posters, posters everywhere, and all of them striking. Signs sparking Trojans to victory covered the walls of the cafeteria every game week. These posters were the results of the combined efforts of all committees of regular pep club.

For the first time, Topeka High was fortunate enough to sponsor two foreign exchange students. We'll never forget Tere's Spanish dances, or Hagen's words, "I think chemistry extra credit is a waste of time." Seriously, Tere and Hagen, we hope you enjoyed your stay at Troy as much as we enjoyed sharing the year with you.

Sophomores, juniors, and teachers might not have comprehended these words of wisdom used by various senior boys. Among the most perplexing and often heard were: "I don't believe we give much credit for that." — Bill Peterman; "Poor showing." — Ben Kuiken; "Skin, man." — Phil Frankenberger; "What is this Jessie?" — Steve Swan; and, "There are no two snowflakes exactly alike." — Dennis Kelly.

The highlight of the social season at Troy was the All-School Party. Amid lollipops and candy canes, the story of the "Nutcracker Suite" was unfolded to the audience. How fitting that Sandy and Jeb, who were going steady, could be king and queen.

The seniors feathered their nests in the AFS assembly when they shelled out more money than the other classes to keep their hard-earned places. Jerry "Elvis" O'Sullivan, Jack "Cool Dip" Dean, J. M. "Pat" Hill, and Wiley "Fats" Alberg entertained Trojans with their interpretation of "The Great Pretender." As the annual goes to the printer, their newest disc, "You Ain't Nothing But a Brownnose," has just been released.

Crosby's latest fashions are modeled by these four top senior girls. Earlene Knoles looks sophisticated in a black cotton sheath with checked jacket. Dressed for spring parties is Sandra Hopkins in a white chiffon skirt topped by a red plaid wool jacket. Alicia Laing is modeling a tan coat with matching hat, a lovely outfit for church. Sunny Robertson shows a serviceable black cotton. Black and white stripes and pert bow decorate the dress.

The largest all-school production of Topeka High was our operetta. Marsha Legg delighted the audience in her role of Sylvia in "Sweethearts." Like a real star, Marsha received an orchid, roses, and telegrams from well-wishers.

Here's to Miss Wheeler and Miss Herrick for their untiring efforts in directing dramatic productions; Mr. "O," the poet laureate of the daily bulletin; "Heavy" Erwin for his oft-spoken words, "What if 1800 students did this in the cafeteria?"; and Mr. Ellithorpe for his famous "Experiment 57."

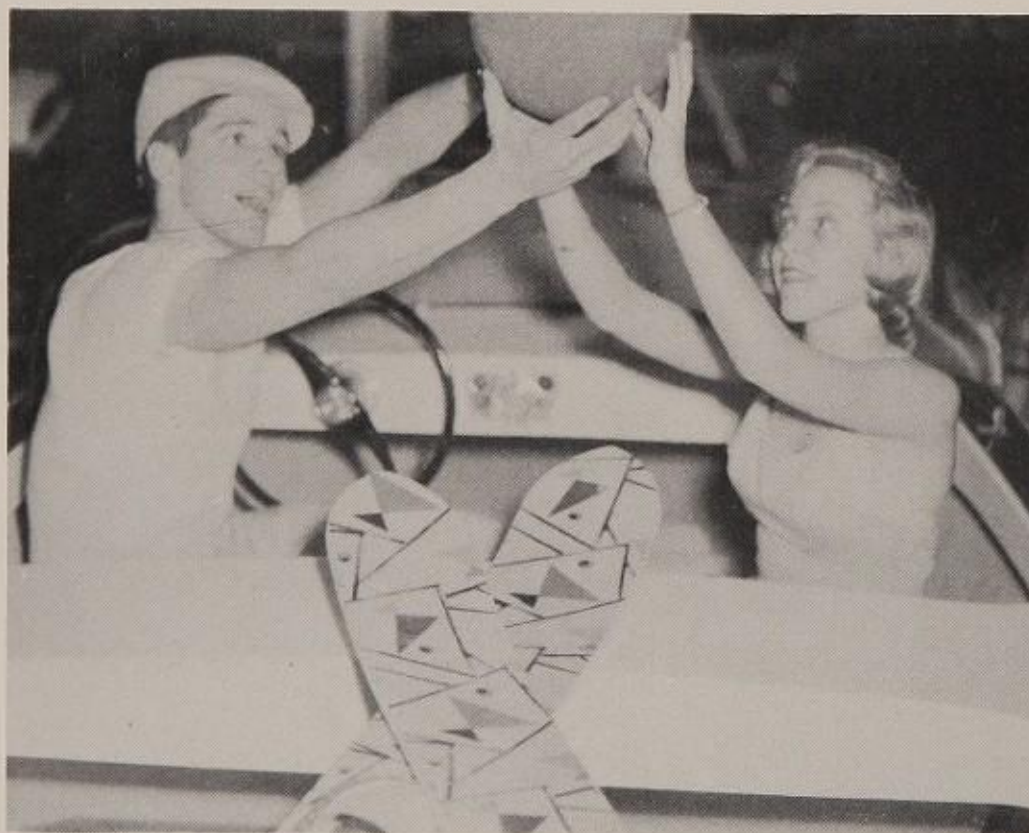

The half-time ceremony for Queen of Courts was beautiful as the Honor Pep and girls of Rep. Council formed a star around the throne. Decorations at the varsity were outstanding—blue streamers and mobiles carried out the "To the Stars" theme.

Much to everyone's astonishment, at the annual band concert, after showing call slips, passes, excuses, etc., to the exasperated director, Mr. Neaderhiser, each section of the band walked out to the music furnished by the remaining members.

We may be the light of our parents' eyes and a sigh of relief to our teachers as we trek across the stage in mortarboard and long gray gown, but to ourselves we are just feeling our wings.

We've flown the coop and are off to scratch on our own.

THE STAFF AND THE ADVISER for the 1957 SUNFLOWER wish to express our thanks to all the wonderful people who helped us make our yearbook a fine record of our senior year — To the faculty and administrators go our sincere thanks for their interest, their patience, and their helpfulness with our photography problems — To the school photographers for the hundreds of snapshots, those we used and those we put aside — To Mr. John Blevins and Bob Victor for special photography assignments — To Mr. Verlas Rose, former Trojan, for his professional help and particularly our beautiful color pages — To our publishers for their interest in Troy — Mr. Lee Padget, Mr. Neill Watson, Mr. John Chappell, Esther Tallant, and Mr. Ralph Smith — To Trojans who came early, stayed late, and saw that their clubs were represented in pictures — To our portrait photographers and advertiser — To all these we say a sincere "Thank you!"

And to ourselves and to each other we express appreciation for willingness to serve on the biggest project of the school year.

Salon pictures, junior portraits, all royalty, football and basketball lettermen photography, and departmental pictures are by Verlas B. Rose of Christopher Studio.

AS SENIORS, we leave.
ALTHOUGH WE FEEL that Topeka High is ours alone, we realize that we are now joining the many classes that have graduated from Troy.
FOR THE LAST TIME we have walked as students thru the halls. Never again will we be a part of Trojan life.
BUT WE WILL CONTINUE to look for guidance in the message of the Tower —

“Dear Lord our God
Be Thou our Guide.
While life shall last
No foot can slide.”

The Tower at night.

Honesty Is the Best Policy

Nothing like an out-of-town game and a bus trip to catch up on the latest jokes, gossip, etcetera, etcetera . . . etcetera.

Who can ever forget "The Glass Menagerie!"
